Gen. Grant the Truest Friend to the South.

Stratagems of the Greeleyites in Connecticut.

The Democratic Grant Club in San Francisco.

Horace Greeley's Appeal to the Rebels for Aid.

Judge Scofield's Reply to the Credit Mobilier Slander.

The Truest Friend to the South.

In response to the reckless suggestion of the World, that "there are not lacking some indications that it is one of Mr. Grant's first purposes, if re-elected to remodel the State Governments of North Carolina and Georgia to suit his own views." Alexander H. Stephens says in the Atlanta (Ga.) Sun: "We know nothing of the 'indications' of Gen. Grant's purposes here referred to by the New-York World; but we do know that when Gov. Bullock wished a 'remodeling' of the Fifth Congressional District of this State, and represented it as being in a state of insurrection, after the election of 1870, he was backed by Mr. Greeley, who then refused the law-abiding people of the district a hearing through his columns against the aspersions and calumnies cast upon them. The New-York World itself refused this hearing in its columns. We know, further, that Gen. Grant, at that time, refused to interfere any further in the internal affairs of Georgia, though the result of the elections just held had been the restoration of the State Administration to the hands of the Democracy. We are, therefore, inclined to look upon this note of alarm as only one of the tricks of the World to favor the cause of the man, who did as much, if not more, in effecting the remodeling of the Governments of all the Southern States, first and last, than any man living; and who now holds that it is the duty of the central head to remodel as often as it may deem it necessary to do so, to accomplish the same purpose."

When Did Fenton Cease to Like Grant?

On March 23, 1870, Gov. Fenton wrote, in a published letter: "Nor, since Gen. Grant's Administration is doing so well, can I deem it necessary or wise for its supporters to take into consideration any change of leadership."

On Nov. 1, 1870, in a speech at Jamestown, Gov. Fenton was outspoken in his praise of the Administration of Gen. Grant.

What has Grant done since November, 1870, that has changed Fenton's views? The only answer is that he has removed some of Fenton's friends from office. And this is a civil service reformer!

A Consistent Statesman.

HORACE GREELEY AT PITTSBURG, SEPT. 19, 1872:	HORACE GREELEY AT CINCINNATI SEPT. 20, 1872:
"I demanded that there should be a fair, open, free discussion before that Southern people, and an honest, unterrified, unconstrained vote and, if they approved, if the people of the South said they wanted disunion, I WOULD CONSENT TO IT." "And now, today, if the nation was to be imperiled, and there were just two modes of saving it, to trust to the chances of civil war, or to the chances of a free vote of the Southern people, I would very greatly prefer to take the latter chance rather than the former."	"Last evening, at Pittsburg, in the course of some off-hand remarks to a vast assemblage like this, I took pains to explain the circumstances, the extraordinary, unprecedented circumstances under which I was impelled in the Winter of 1860 to offer in good faith to submit the whole question of union or disunion to a free, unconstrained vote of the Southern people. Those remarks which I made last evening have been misrepresented; have been, I think, perverted into an expression of a present belief, a present conviction, that any State has a right to dissolve this Union at its own good pleasure. Fellow-citizens, I utterly repudiate and condemn that sentiment. [Cheers.] I do not believe that one State, or that ten States or that even a majority of all the States has a moral, legal or constitutional right to dissolve our Union."

It is pretty clear that between Pittsburg and Cincinnati Mr. Greeley found he had "put his foot in it" and found it necessary to change his views. A man who changes his views every twenty-four hours is hardly the man for President.

United Reform Movement.

The undersigned desire to join the Executive Committee of the Council of Political Reform in inviting the presence and co-operation of the friends of municipal reform, in the mass-meeting to be held at Cooper Union today. We believe that the public interests and the exigencies of the Reform movement demand that its friends be summoned to an immediate and earnest effort to secure the special objects of this meeting, which are, first, to influence the nomination of certain candidates for the offices of the City and County of New-York, to be filled at the next election; also, to concentrate with our movement all the organizations and friends of Reform to complete the work undertaken, and generally to appeal to the public again for a fresh indorsement of the agencies and methods employed:

B. B. Sherman, Geo. H. Moller, Wm. A. Booth, E. Brackowvzer, M. D., Phelps, Dodge & Co., Wm. Ootnout, James C. Holden, Gilman, Son & Co., Royal Phelps, Oswald Ottendorfer, James Emott, W. R. Vermilye, J. D. Jones, Henry Clews, Emil Sawer, J. D. Vermilye, F. D. Tappen, John A. Stewart, Eugene S. Ballou, Joseph Seligman, Evarts, Southmade & Choat, Benjamin Tatham, Harper & Bro., H. N. Burr, Nathan Bishop, Geo. W. Lane, Samuel Sloan.

Greeley Stratagems in Connecticut.

It has been ascertained that the Greeleyites of Connecticut have recently sent out a secret circular, in which they urge a union with the Democrats in the town elections next month, that they may thereby reduce the regular Republican vote. The circular admits that gains on the part of the Republicans at that time "would be very damaging in their effect on our friends;" and then it is added that "gains on our part would bring out the hesitating, who want to come out for the Liberal cause, but do not like to join themselves to a failing cause." Meanwhile the Republicans are not at all alarmed. The Republican State Committee held a meeting in Hartford, Friday night, and most encouraging reports were received. In nine of the twenty-one Senatorial Districts gains are promised; in only three, it was reported, does the Greeley defection amount to anything, and in none is it serious.

Greeley's Appeal to the Rebels for Aid.

In reference to Mr. Greeley's speech in Harrisburg, in which he demanded amnesty for he few ex-rebels who are not permitted by the Constitution to hold office, the Providence Journal says: "It is estimated that there are about 200 of them; Jeff. Davis, Robert Toombs, Semmes, and men of that character. The disability of these men to hold office, under the Government that they betrayed, is all the legal punishment that remains of the rebellion. No one of this class, so far as our recollection goes, has ever asked to be restored and been refused. Many of the bloodiest and the worst of them, having asked for the removal of their disabilities, and pledged their allegiance to the Government, have been taken at their word and restored. A few of them hang out. With the path open before them, they will not walk in it, because it implies a regret for their past treason, in which they glory, and of which they declare that they regret nothing but the failure. They will not come back 'as penitents.' They must have from the Government, not render to the Government, the acknowledgment of wrong. * * * The political motive of this speech is plain. Mr. Greeley is speaking to the South. He has given up the hope of Northern support beyond the Democratic Party and the soreheads. The voices of Vermont and Maine tell him what he has to expect from the portion of the country that was loyal in the war; he turns to the portion that was disloyal; and he takes the extremest ground of the Southern position. We shall be mistaken if this remarkable speech does not injure Mr. Greeley here more than it can help him there."

Democratic Grant Club in San Francisco.

The Democratic Grant and Wilson Club of the Tenth Ward of San Francisco, had on its lists at the latest mail advices the names of 162 active members, all old-line Democrats. They held an enthusiastic meeting on the evening of Sept 13, and were addressed by Hon. James T. Ryan, Judge Tyler, Gen. A. M. Winn and others. One of the speakers said he was an old man, and he could not afford to vote for Greeley. It would take the rest of his life to explain to his wife and grandchildren why he had done so.

The Credit Mobilier Slander—Judge Scofield's Reply.

The following is Judge Scofield's reply to the letter of a friend respecting the Credit Mobilier slander:

TROY, Penn., Sept. 14, 1872.

I. S. Alden, Esq.:

DEAR SIR: Your letter of the 8th instant reached me here. I have not seen the World nor any paper containing the charge you allude to, but I understand that I and others in Congress in 1867-8 are accused of receiving stock of a company called the "Credit Mobilier," as an inducement or reward for passing certain legislation favorable to the Union Pacific Railroad. The charge is utterly untrue so far as I am concerned. I believe I have opposed every measure introduced in Congress in the interest of this railroad corporation. If I have not, the exceptional instance now escapes my recollection. While I am aware of no valid reason why any person might not hold stock in the Company referred to, who came by it honestly, the truth is I never owned, in any shape or form, a share or cent of it. Yours truly,

G. W. SCOFIELD.

The Tribune and Judge Tremaine.

The Tribune is making a great cakling over some excited utterances of Judge Tremaine, made before the attack upon Sumter—utterances for which Mr. Tremaine nobly atoned by word and act very soon after. But in the same paper it announces that James S. Thayer is to address a Greeley mass-meeting. This has led us to refer to the Twenty-fifth chapter of Greeley's American Conflict. We find there that at a Democratic State Convention held at Albany on Jan. 31, 1861—where, if we mistake not, Mr. Tremaine made his speech—Horatio Seymour, Amasa J. Parker and James S. Thayer, now leading Greeley orators, were present and made speeches and listened with applause to the addresses of others. One of these orators said: "Finally, if Congress and our States cannot or will not win back our Southern brethren, let us at least part as friends." Mr. Thayer, after urging some compromise, said: "If we cannot, we can at least, in an authoritative way and a practical manner, arrive at the basis of a peaceable separation," and this sentiment was received with "renewed cheers." He continued: "The public mind will bear the avowal, and let us make it, that if a revolution of force is to begin, it shall be inaugurated at home. And if the incoming Administration shall attempt to carry out the line of policy that has been foreshadowed, we announce when the hand of Black Republicanism turns to bloodred, and seeks from the fragment of the Constitution to construct a scaffolding for coercion—another name for execution—we will reverse the order of the French Revolution, and save the blood of the people by making those who would inaugurate a reign of terror the first victims of a national guillotine," and this bloody declaration was received with "enthusiastic applause." Encouraged by this he closed by saying: "What shall we say to our people when we come to meet this state of facts? That the Union must be preserved. But if that cannot be, what then? Peaceable separation. [Applause.] As we are not aware that Mr. Thayer has ever retracted or atoned for these sentiments, he seems a good orator for a meeting to promote the election of Mr. Greeley.

Work in Westchester.

The Republicans of Westchester are actively marshaling their forces for the campaign. In the village of Bedford, which adjoins Chappaqua, a Grant and Wilson Club has flourished for some time, but on Friday night a considerable number of citizens gathered at the village Court-house and formed a second Republican club, with Hon. Wm. H. Robinson, Dr. Sawyer, Jas. H. Trowbridge, and others, among the officers. Appropriate speeches were delivered and immense enthusiasm prevailed, the excitement of the occasion exceeding that of any previous election.

A Democrat on the Greeley Democracy.

Mr. Samuel Campbell, son of the late honorable gentleman of that name, a graduate of Princeton College and a well-known barrister of this State, has heretofore voted the Democratic ticket, but now comes out in a letter repudiating the Baltimore bargain and pledging his vote to the Republican National and State tickets. In this letter occur the following significant passages:

"A combination, under the auspices of the demagogues of the Democratic Party, with the outlawed and baser portion of the Republican Party, led by the chief malcontent and arch libeler of the age, is not the sort of Democracy in which I have been educated, and furnishes no bond of sympathy which entitles it to my support. To my personal knowledge, several of my Democratic friends and neighbors feel, as I do upon this subject, and many Otsego Democrats will be found to reject the 'bitter pill.'"

Personal Notes.

Senator T. O. Howe, of Wisconsin, has been compelled by illness to abandon public speaking for the present. He is suffering from asthma and a cold, with a tendency to congestion of the lungs, but hopes to be able to take the stump again about the middle of October.... E. Joy Morris has been induced to withdraw his declination of the Greeley nomination for Congress in the Second District of Pennsylvania. He has manifested life-long hungering for office, and his declination was more strange than his present acceptance....Hon. William Gray has greatly disappointed the Greeleyites of Massachusetts by refusing to run for Congress in the Fourth District....The Republicans of the Eighth District of Wisconsin have nominated Dr. A. S. McDell, now Superintendent of the State Insane Asylum, for Congress....Col. W. B. Shelby has been nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the Fifth District of Mississippi.

Assembly Nominations.

The following are additional Republican nominations for the Assembly of this State:

Onondaga County—First District, William H. H. Gere; Second District, George Rayner; Third District, John I. Furbeck.

Clinton County—Everett C. Baker.

Wayne County—Second District, Lucien T. Yeomans.

Another Prominent Man Wrongly Claimed.

The Greeleyite organ here all claimed that Chief-Justice Christancy, of Michigan, is a supporter of Greeley for the Presidency. During his absence from home this story obtained uncontradicted, even a wider spread currency than they have usually given their fictions. But now it can be laid aside with the rest of their disproved assertions, for the Lansing (Mich.) Republican of last week says: "Immediately upon his return home he denounced the corrupt Greeley combination, and expressed himself unreservedly in favor of Grant's re-election."

Enthusiastic Demonstration in Susquehanna County, Pennsylvania.

Susquehanna County, Pennsylvania, is awake and in earnest. On Saturday large and enthusiastic Grant and Wilson meetings were held, and speeches made by J. F. Manning, of Massachusetts; Mr. Johnson, of Binghamton; Col. F. S. Lambert and others. The meeting of the Greeleyites called for the same evening was a failure, the hall in which it was to have been held being filled with the supporters of Grant. Hon. A. H. Cragin, of New-Hampshire, will address the citizens in the same place on Sept. 30.

Clinton County Nominations.

The Republicans of Clinton County have nominated an excellent ticket, as follows: For Assembly, Everett C. Baker, of Plattsburg; County Treasurer, David F. Dobie, present incumbent; Superintendent of the Poor, Peter Senecal; School Commissioners, William B. Dodge and Robert S. McCullough; Coroner, Harvey Carter; Justices of Sessions, Ira B. Vaughan. The Plattsburg Sentinel says: "We commend as wise and appropriate the general acts of the Convention. It sought out its candidates with the most judicious discrimination, and has given us a ticket that we take pride and pleasure in putting at the head of our columns. And now, we anxiously await the voice of old Clinton. That it will be in commendation of the right, and in condemnation of the wrong, we believe we may safely affirm."

The Maine Legislature.

The Maine Senate last year contained twenty-six Republicans and three Democrats, and there were two vacancies. The House of Representatives was composed of 112 Republicans and thirty-eight Democrats, and one Independent—making the Republican majority on joint ballot, ninety-six. This year the Republicans have elected thirty members of the Senate and the Democrats one, the latter being secured through defection in Somerset County, occasioned by the removal of the county seat from Norridgewock to Skowhegan. Two Representative Districts must be heard from before the list of members of the House can be made complete. But the returns received already from the other districts show that the Republicans have chosen 128 members. There are two Independent members, and the Democrats have secured only nineteen.

Another Slander Against Mr. Blaine Killed.

A leading Democratic paper in Maine, just before the election, accused Mr. Blaine of having acted in bad faith with the estate of the late A. W. Johnson, of Belfast, in a business transaction. The executor of that estate, Mr. C. B. Hazeltine, of Belfast, as soon as his attention was called to the accusation, sent a letter to the paper, in which he says: "Allow me now, as one of the executors of Mr. Johnson's estate, to say that your information is entirely erroneous. I desire farther to say that Mr. Blaine's conduct in the whole matter was that of a gentleman, and a man of honor. Opposed as I am to Mr. Blaine politically, I feel constrained to bear my testimony to his just and honorable conduct in all business transactions with which I have had any conection, or of which I have any knowledge." Of course the Democratic paper has never published Mr. Hazeltine's letter.

Union League of Philadelphia.

The National Campaign Committee of the Union League of Philadelphia, to whom that influential body delegated the authority to express its sentiments upon the issues of the present canvass, have adopted a series of resolutions declaring that they have now, as during the rebellion, implicit confidence in the patriotism, judgment and ability of Gen. Grant, and that in John F. Hartranft, the candidate for Governor, they recognize one who, in every position, private or official, has acquitted himself with honor and fidelity to each trust reposed in him. They declared their earnest support of the entire Republican ticket, and denounce all malcontents and disorganizers.

Letter from Vice-President Colfax.

Hon. Schuyler Colfax has written a letter to Hon. John A. Kasson, of Iowa, congratulating him upon his nomination for re-election to Congress, and saying: "I remember how ably, and how usefully too, you served the House and the nation on the important committee to which I appointed you during my Speakership, and I am glad that the country is again to have your talents, your genial manner, and your energies in its service. I do not doubt, of course, that your district and State are to give those noble majorities for the right for which they have been so honorably distinguished, and, therefore, your majority by thousands is an assured fact."

The Straight Democrats.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 21.—A Springfield, Ill., special says the Straight-out Democratic State Central Committee met there yesterday, and nominated a full ticket for State officers. The Electors at large are W. C. Soudy, of Cook, and H. M. Wead, of Peoria. The State ticket is as follows:

Governor—Sidney Breese, of Clinton.

Lieutenant-Governor—D. S. Storrs, of Greene.

Secretary of State—Seth Sutton, of Clark.

Auditor—C. H. Wirtman, of Massac.

Treasurer—Henry West, of McLean.

Attorney-General—George A. Meech, of Cook.

Stirring up the Greeleyites of Alabama.

The Mobile Register publishes a long article making a doleful appeal to the Greeleyites of Alabama to try to make good the boasts uttered so freely for them. It begins thus, and shows the desperate straits to which the Greeleyites are reduced: "It is useless to disguise the fact that there is a vast deal of work to be done in the remaining seven weeks of this canvass that will not be done unless our people universally rouse themselves from their lethargy and put their shoulders to the wheel with one impulse and with their whole united strength. It is all very well for confident gentlemen to say: 'Oh! we must carry the State.' 'We'll give Greeley and Herndon 20,000 majority.' We have no sort of objection to such assertion; we only hope it will be more than proved. But it will not be, unless the very men who so confidently repeat it will work more and talk less. Alabama made loud-mouthed pledges before the whole country of what she meant to do. She boasted abroad, through her representatives, and at home through her Press, of what she would accomplish this campaign. We are free to confess that to this day she has not secured the accomplishment of her undertaking, by any manner of means; and, unless she goes to work in earnest, with steady and systematized work by every man in his place, she will not secure it."

John Brown's Family.

The Philadelphia Bulletin says that the Democratic Party of this country has not been accustomed to regard the family of old John Brown with any marked degree of reverence and respect, but they have recently hunted up a brother of his, named Frederick Brown, and as he is "out for Greeley" are using him under the shadow, or the glory (whichever they may now think it,) of Ossawottamie's name, although it does not appear that he ever had any connection with John Brown's anti-slavery operations, or contributed a dollar or a word of sympathy to the cause to which his brother devoted himself. As it happens, another member of the family has also spoken, and his position is worth knowing. It is John Brown, Jr., son of old Ossawottamie, and his companion in his perils. He was asked some time ago to unite himself with the Greeley party, and in response wrote the following letter:

PUT-IN-BAY, Ottawa County, Ohio, Aug. 2, 1872.

MY DEAR SIR: I have this moment received yours of the 1st instant. It is a matter of surprise to me that you could for a moment suppose that I am in favor of placing in power the party which every friend of liberty and equal rights had found it necessary to oppose with all his might these many years. If any other of my friends entertain such an opinion of me, please do me the favor to correct their mistake. I am still, as I ever have been, faithful to Republican principles, and to the only party in the United States which, it seems to me, fairly represents them—the party whose standard-bearers are Grant and Wilson. Very truly yours.

JOHN BROWN, JR.

Local Notes.

Michael Norton is actively canvassing the Fifth Assembly District for a nomination for the Assembly.

A meeting in the Twentieth Ward, Saturday night, at No. 1,373 Broadway, nominated Mr. Robert Power for Alderman.

On Wednesday evening next the Liberal Republicans of the Second Assembly District will raise a banner in front of No. 164 Chatham-street.

The Sixth Ward Working Men's Independent Association met Saturday evening at No. 68 Bayard-street, and transacted business relating to the coming election.

Gen. N. P. Banks, accompanied by Gov. Hoffman, is to leave this City for Stroudsburg, Penn., in a few days. The two are to make an extended stumping tour in that State.

Saturday evening there was a large gathering at the residence of Mr. Wm. McMahon, No. 88 East Broadway, and a banner bearing the likeness of Hon. James O'Brien was unfurled to the breeze. Speeches were made in favor of the election of Mr. O'Brien to the civic chair.

The Young Men's Republican Association of the Fifteenth Assembly District, met Saturday evening at No. 246 West Thirty-third-street, Mr. Samuel Hamilton in the chair. Addresses were made by Messrs. Peterson, Fox, Hamilton and Peebles. On Monday the Association will permanently organize by electing officers to serve for the ensuing year.

An Independent Citizens' Reform Association was perfected at Provost Hall last evening by the election of the following officers: Chairman, C. Aufenger; Secretary, J. Frankan; Vice-Presidents, A. Loeb, A. H. Mass and M. Ebremich. Resolutions were passed nominating Jacob Herr as member of Assembly from the Twentieth District.

A meeting was held on Thursday evening, at Grubb's Hall, One Hundredth-street, to inaugurate a Grant and Wilson Central Campaign Club, and resolutions were passed pledging the organization to work indefatigably to secure the triumphant election of Grant and Wilson. Speeches were made by Ex-Senator Petty, Herman Dierson and others.

GREELEY ON THE STUMP.

Prompt and Sweeping Repudiation of Him by Cincinnati.

The Pernicious Doctrines of His Pittsburg Speech Exposed.

His Slanderous Imputations on the Soldiers Refuted.

How He Spent the Sabbath at Louisville—He Attempts to Wheedle and Then to Bully the Colored People into Voting for Him.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 22.—Horace Greeley left here yesterday afternoon, just in time to escape the painful spectacle of the grandest Republican demonstration, both as to numbers and enthusiasm, the city has ever seen. He had attracted crowds, brought by curiosity alone, but he had scarcely departed when the streets were filled with marching crowds of Republicans shouting lustily for Grant. For an hour Ward Grant Clubs were filing into Court-street, Market Space, and the adjacent streets, until all that neighborhood was densely packed with masses bearing torches, banners and transparencies, until not less than 10,000 men were wedged into Market Space alone. The most significant incident was the fact that a large portion of those present were Germans, and that German wards made as large a display as ever before, thus putting an effectual stop to the slander that they had been carried off like sheep by Schurz and Hassaurek. But more cheering even than the vast numbers of the display was the intense enthusiasm manifested. For more than an hour, the Republican jubilee was so great, and the cheers for Grant and Wilson and Hayes and Eggleston so continuous and lusty, as to drown even the stentorian tones of Gen. Logan and the bell-like voice of Gov. Hawley, both of whom tried in vain for a time to make themselves heard, while at the other stand Secretary Delano and Gen. Butler made their speeches to the reporters and few hundred gathered immediately about the stand. It was such a demonstration as no Greeleyite had deemed possible, as no Republican had dared hope for, and was so entirely overwhelming as to wring from the Commercial today this admission:

"It had been contended by all the Liberals and Democrats of the county, and conceded by many Republicans that it would be impossible to approach the Schurz demonstration either in numbers or spirit, particularly as no German speaker could be presented to attract through curiosity or devotion to the cause the masses from over the Rhine. This view of the case, candor compels me to say turned out erroneous, and we must say of the meeting lastnight, as we did of that of Tuesday night of last week, that it was an immense success, both as to the crowds of people drawn out and the enthusiasm manifested. Until last night the Schurz meeting was without compeer; then it was surpassed."

The Greeleyites fill themselves no longer on such dry husks as that Hamilton County will give them 3,000 majority, or that they can positively carry Ohio. No one after seeing this indubitable evidence that the party in this gloriously steady State is as numerous, as aggressive and as enthusiastic as ever before, can doubt that a magnificent victory awaits us in November. Hamilton County is confessedly the Greeley stronghold, yet here Republicanism shows itself as powerful as ever.

The meeting of last night was rather for a display of Republican strength than for speaking. All the addresses were short, and could be heard by only a small portion of those present.

It was impossible for any speaker to intensify the enthusiasm with which the masses came upon the ground.

Secretary Delano was the first speaker at the middle stand, delivering one of his forcible appeals for the maintenance of what we have won by the continuance of the Republican Party in power, which he showed would be put in jeopardy by the success of the Democracy through Greeley, upon whose Pittsburg speech, he said: "Why does Horace Greeley go to Pittsburg and say to the largest collection of brave and patriotic men that ever gathered together upon this continent: 'You have come here for the purpose of stirring up war!' Why does he announce that great—what shall I call it?—untruth? Those men had no thought of war, no thought of discord, no thought of disturbing harmony. They met as brave men to shake each other by the hand and congratulate themselves that they had restored the country and saved the flag of the Union. Why denounce them as trying to keep up strife? I will tell you, my friends. It was to break up the Republican Party, for all that falsehood invented and malice uttered has been invented and uttered to destroy the Republican Party and restore the rebels to power. You forbid it. You voted against it, and so will those like you until traitors shall read anew the great truth that the Republican Party lives—lives to take care of the Union that it has saved."

Gen. Butler followed in a strong argument for the Republican, Party and upon Pittsburg he said:

Mr. Greeley told the citizens of Pittsburg, after the great meeting of soldiers of the war, where there was not a word of hate, not a word of unkindness, not a single word of harshness directed against the rebels—he told the people that that meeting was for the purpose of raising hate. He goes further and says that the disloyal rebel States have done all that loyal men asked of them. Let us see how that was. We demanded that they should surrender in 1861, and they fought till 1865, and did not give up their arms till they were struck from their hands, and they went home in preference to being hanged for their crimes. Now, what shall you say of one who is a Presidential candidate, and who tells us of our great civil war which cost us three hundred thousand lives and thirty-two thousand men starved to death at Andersonville, that we demanded that they should surrender their arms and go home, and they surrendered them? What further does Mr. Greeley say? We demanded that they should enfranchise the blacks, and the blacks are enfranchised. Who ever used words so calculated to deceive! Show me the vote of any State of the South, where Southern men had the control, where they voted to enfranchise a single negro, and I will vote for Horace Greeley, and that is the worst punishment you could put upon me. What else does he say? We demanded that the emancipated slaves should not be paid for, and that the rebel debt should never be paid by the Government or by any State, and they assented. Now, I undertake to say that there is not one word of truth in that; not one;" and the speaker went on to vindicate the truth of history against the assertions of Mr. Greeley.

At the eastern stand the affair was rather a love-feast, but after a time Gen. Hawley made himself heard, and delivered one of his cogent appeals for true peace, reconciliation and continued prosperity by the re-election of Gen. Grant.

A rain-storm coming up, this portion of the meeting adjourned to an adjoining hall, where Gen. Logan vigorously reviewed Greeley at Pittsburg, saying he had heard every word of that memorable harangue himself, and knew it was not misreported as Greeley claimed here. He spoke strongly upon its misrepresentation, saying that in none of its speeches or its resolutions had the Pittsburg Convention breathed anything but kindness for the South or anything but hope for the proffered conciliations, so that it was utterly untrue that it had tended to raise hate. But Mr. Greeley's views of secession were more important, as it appeared that if chosen President he would do nothing to preserve the Union, if any State should, on what he chose to consider a fair, fair vote, determine to secede. This, the speaker claimed, was reopening the very issues settled by the war, and again unsettling the very foundation of the Government. It was a notice to the South that in case of his election they were at liberty to agitate the question of secession and to carry their docrine into practical effect, if they could make it appear that they had a majority with them, without let or hindrance from Mr. Greeley.

These several reviews of Greeley at Pittsburg have produced a profound impression, and with the general effect of the great demonstration of last night, it is evident the Greeleyites cannot call on old Hamilton for any majority whatever. Greeley's pilgrimage here at least was a failure, as one significant fact attests. It was widely advertised he would attend the Exposition on Friday and greatly increased crowds were expected, but the receipts were nearly a thousand dollars less than on the previous day when there was no especial attraction.

How Sunday was Passed by Mr. Greeley in Louisville—A Fruitless Attempt to Cajole the Colored Men.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 22.—Mr. Greeley held a reception at the Galt House this morning, but only a few persons called to see him, and of these there was not one of any marked political standing. At 8 o'clock this evening, through the instrumentality of some of Mr. Greeley's friends, four prominent colored citizens of this city, Messrs. Perkins, Barber, Schurtz and Bowen, waited upon him at his hotel with a view to obtain an elucidation of his views in regard to the treatment of the colored people. His speech, delivered last evening, published in this day's TIMES, was generally understood to be a bait to catch the colored vote, and following upon that speech, the interview was brought about. There was no reporter present, for it was feared that the result of the conversation would not be very gratifying to Mr. Greeley, and in that event it was deemed better to keep the matter strictly secret. The purport of the interview has, however, become known. With that persuasive eloquence which the "Sage" knows how to command when it befits his interest he endeavored earnestly to persuade his auditors that the colored people of the United States had no greater friend than he was, identified in the Liberal movement; that Grant had broken the promises given them before his election to the Presidency, and that a persistence in their present political policy would tend to their injury as a class. The eloquence of Greeley did not make any special sympathetic response, and he immediately launched into a strain of conversation more threatening than argumentative. He reminded them that, as citizens, the colored people could not properly vote as a body, and called their attention to the fact that a bill was recently introduced in the Legislature of Kentucky to give their taxes for the education of their children. Then, in the mildest but most meaning tones, he assured them that if the colored people continue to show such a determined political front to the Democrats, the latter would evince a corresponding enmity; consequently, it was for their interest to curry favor with the Democrats. One of the four gentlemen promised Mr. Greeley his support, but also stated that an avowal of his political conversion would entail the enmity of the entire colored population of Louisville.

Programme of the Stumping Candidate After Doing Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 22.—The following is now Mr. Greeley's programme of travel: He will leave the hotel at 8 o'clock in the morning in a carriage for Jeffersonville, Ind., just across the river, where he will probably make a brief speech. He will take the train there for Indianapolis at 9 o'clock, leave Indianapolis late the same night, arriving at Hamilton, Ohio, about 8 A. M. Tuesday, Dayton about 10 o'clock, and leave Dayton about 11 o'clock for Cleveland, stopping briefly at Springfield, Urbana, Bellefontaine, Forest, Carey, Tiffin, Clyde and Sandusky. He will probably leave Cleveland Wednesday evening and go through Warren, Ohio, Greenville, Corry, Warren, Penn., via the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad to Sunbury, also to Easton by the Lehigh Valley Railroad, and thence to New-York.

INDIANA.

A Brilliant Corps of Orators in the Field—Preparing for Greeley.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 22.—The canvass in Indiana is now being fought with greater vigor and bitterness than any that has ever preceded it. Both parties have availed themselves of the services of all the public speakers whose time they can command. This week the following speakers will be added to the already long list in the canvass: Secretary Boutwell, Gen. Hawley and Gov. Jewell, of Connecticut; Gen. Butler, Gen. Logan, John W. Forney, of Pennsylvania; Gen. Baker, of Minnesota; Hon. W. W. Wadsworth, Gen. W. T. Ward and Chas. Eginton, of Kentucky; Hon. Shelbie M. Cullen and Gen. T. O. Osborne, of Illinois; Hon. J. A. Bingham, of Ohio; J. M. Langston, of Washington, and Hon. Jas. Lynch, of Missouri, both colored, and Hon. Paul Strobach, of Alabama, and Hon. Chas. Metzner, of Illinois, both Germans.

The Republican meeting in this city last night was one of the largest and most enthusiastic of the campaign. Speeches were made by Hon. James B. Brown, for many years a leading Democrat in this State, and Gen. James A. Hall, of Maine. The meeting did not heat up until after 11 o'clock, after which a large crowd, headed by the Grant Guards, marched to the Bates and Mason House and serenaded Gen. Baker, of Minnesota; Gen. Hall, of Maine, and Hon. J. B. Brown.

To-morrow night Horace Greeley puts in an appearance at this place. A Committee of Democrats have gone to Louisville to escort him to this city.

The Republicans have determined upon a State demonstration here on Oct. 3, with Secretary Boutwell, Ben. Butler, and other eminent speakers.

ALABAMA.

Mr. Greeley's Friends Illustrating His Policy of Reconciliation—A Republican Meeting in Mobile Broken Up.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

MOBILE, Ala., Sept. 22.—The Republicans had a grand torch-light procession and meeting here last night. After the procession had paraded some of the streets Col. McAfee addressed the audience at Bienville-square. It is estimated that there were 3,000 people present. After Col. McAfee had spoken about half an hour the meeting was broken up by an attack of drunken Democrats. The Democratic papers in this morning's issue admit the conservative language used by the speaker and that the attack was unprovoked.

Dispatch to the Associated Press.

MOBILE, Ala., Sept. 22.—Last night, during a meeting of Republicans in this city, a disturbance occurred. It began by the discharge of a pistol into the ground by some unknown person, which caused a general stampede. Some parties say the first shot was fired by a white man; others say by a negro. Other shots followed. No one was hurt in the neighborhood of the speaking, but three persons were seriously injured at some distance from the scene of action. Mr. Morris, of the firm of Morris & Co., was shot while standing in his own dwelling. Mr. Richards, son of C. G. Richards, was also shot. Oliver J. Jemmels was knocked down and clubbed. These are the only persons at present known to have been injured, and they were attacked by negroes who were stampeding.

OBITUARY.

Hon. Garret Davis, United States Senator.

The death of Mr. Davis occurred at his residence in Paris, Ky., at 6 A. M. yesterday, of gangrenous affection of the lungs, after an illness of four weeks. He was born at Mount Sterling, Ky., Sept. 10, 1801. He received an English and classical education, and while but a boy was employed as a writer in the County and Circuit Courts of his district. He studied law, and was admitted to the Bar in 1823. He was elected to the State Legislature in 1833, and was twice re-elected. In 1839 he was a member of the State Constitutional Convention. From that year to 1847 he served in Congress as a Representative from his native State, and at the end of that period declined a re-election. In 1861 he was elected United States Senator from Kentucky, and in 1867 was re-elected. His second term would have expired in March, 1873. He served on the Committees on Foreign Relations, on Territories, on Claims, and on Pensions. In 1864 he was appointed a Regent of the Smithsonian Institute, and in 1866 was one of the Senators designated to attend the funeral of Gen. Winfield Scott. Though always actively engaged in the practice of his profession, Mr. Davis also devoted much attention to agriculture. From an early age he was one of the most intimate personal and political friends of Henry Clay, and the friendship continued until the death of that distinguished statesman. Later, however, Mr. Davis was politically a Democrat, and one of the Bourbon kind, and his harangues—for they could hardly be called speeches—in the Senate were marked chiefly by ill-temper and bad taste. He gave in a frantic adhesion to the cause of the "Anything-to-beat Grant candidate," and will be a serious loss to that weakening cabal.

FORRESTER'S FATE.

Another Secret Witness to be Produced by the Prosecution—Forrester Seen the Morning After the Murder, Covered With Blood.

Today the examination in the case of William Forrester, alias William Marshall, charged with the murder of Mr. Benjamin Nathan, the banker, will be resumed before Justice Dowling. On the last day Superintendent Kelso produced Miss Annie Keenan, a music-teacher, whose startling evidence had been kept a secret by the Police for two years. Today, in all probability, another witness, whose evidence, even more startling than Miss Keenan's, has been kept secret, will be produced. The story of this man, if uncontradicted by Forrester, will be of great weight. George Kelsey, an educated Englishman, and a chemist by profession, was employed in the preparation of what are known as the university medicines, in a laboratory in University-place. He lived in West Washington-square, and, being in the habit of rising very early in the morning, used to go into the Park and smoke a pipe for an hour or so. On the morning of the Nathan murder he was sitting on a bench in the Park. It was just breaking morning, and he saw a man coming through the Park in an excited manner. The expression of the man's face was that of one being pursued by justice, his shirt-front was covered with blood, and the cuff of his right shirt-sleeve, which hung down below his coat-sleeve, was also covered with blood. It made so great an impression on Mr. Kelsey that he told a Park Policeman, who told Capt. Hedden, of the Fifteenth Precinct. Mr. Kelsey was sent for, and his statement taken, he giving a complete description of the man. On the arrest of Forrester, Detective Parrish was sent to find Kelsey, but the latter had left his former residence and nothing was known of his whereabouts. Kelsey, however, had presented a young lady in the house with a bottle of Florida water. On the bottle was a label of Messrs. Kemp & Co., the down-town druggists. On proceeding to Kemp & Co.'s, the detective found that Kelsey lived in Glendale, Long Island. The rest was easy; Kelsey was found, brought to the Tombs, where he identified Forrester from among eight prisoners as the man he saw in Washington Parade Ground on the morning of the murder.

THE WEATHER.

Synopsis and Probabilities.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 23—1 A. M.—The barometer has risen from the lakes to the east and middle Atlantic coast, but continues highest over the Atlantic States. It has fallen over the North-west. Areas of rain have prevailed from the lower lakes to Lakes Huron and Michigan, and over the Gulf coast. The temperature has risen from Virginia to New-England.

PROBABILITIES.

For New-England, westerly winds and clear weather; for the Middle States, winds backing to easterly and southerly, with clear weather over the southern portion, but probably cloudy and threatening weather over the lower lake region this evening; for the South Atlantic and Gulf States easterly to southerly winds, cloudy weather, and very probably rain areas; from Tennessee to the upper lakes diminishing pressure, southerly to easterly winds, increasing cloudiness, and probably threatening weather.

City Meteorological Report.

The following observations show the temperature, &c., for the past twenty-four hours, as recorded by Schultz & Warker, at the Central Park Mineral Springs:

A Cohoes, N. Y., dispatch says Samuel Sternett, aged fifty years, was carried over the State Dam in a skiff, near Green Island, on Saturday night and drowned. His body was recovered.

A young man, who registered as G. H. Goodspede, of New-York, but who subsequently stated that he came from New-Haven, was roped into a game of "bunks," in Chicago, on Saturday, and "fleeced," losing $5,000.

The annual meeting of the New-York State Council of Political Reform will be held at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, in the City of Albany, on Tuesday, Sept. 24, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Charles R. Henderson was arrested in Baltimore on Saturday night for the murder of Dr. Merriman Cole on the night of Saturday, Jan. 8, 1872. Henderson was a tenant of Dr. Cole's up to within a few days of the murder, and the circumstances point to him as the perpetrator.

They Met by Chance—Veterans of the Mexican War.

From the Sacramento (Cal.) Union, Sept. 14.

At a place of public resort, last evening, a singular coincidence occurred in this, that five gentlemen, one not knowing another, met, and in course of conversation ascertained that all were veterans of the Mexican war. The parties were John Green, of Virginia; Frank M. Marshall, of Tennessee; H. Woodworth and John Domingos, of Georgia, and Charles Chaney, of Ohio. Of course the usual comparing of notes took place, and in a convivial way they fought their battles o'er again.

"Depew and Japan."

From the New-York World, Nov. 18, 1865.

No intelligent person can object, on patriotic grounds, to seeing Mr. Depew sent to Japan, or even to a still more remote and calorific clime.

But something is due, after all, to the Japanese, who have treated the United States, on the whole, with distinguished courtesy. Had they done anything to incense us, there might be an excuse for sending them Census Depew. But as the case actually stands, it is hardly fair to treat their fair island empire as if it were a dust-hole bearing the inscription, "Rubbish shot here." It is true that Depew can teach them a new and more comprehensive method of hari-kari, or "happy dispatch," than has been heretofore known to them; and put the Tycoon in the way of ridding himself, by a single stroke of his pen, not of a miserable State officer or two, but of the whole population of a disaffected district.

The real reason of Depew's appointment, however, we take to be, not any good will to the Japanese or their Tycoon, but simply the entire failure of the Tribune * * * to whitewash that obnoxious functionary. As it is clear that his official character is and must remain hopelessly black, Mr. Seward has judiciously resolved to send him where he may at least expect to be nicely japanned into a presentable polish.

An Opinion of Gen. Grant's Pen Power.

From the New-York World, Dec. 6, 1865.

Gen. Grant, it is plain, has no more love of being misrepresented than the late Sir Charles Napier, whose dispatches were forever taking away the breath of the decorous British War Office; and his fashion of dealing with incompetent Generals, pen in hand, over his table, is not a bit less curt and decisive than his demeanor toward them in the field.

Fatal Termination of a Quarrel Between Prominent Citizens—One Man Killed and Another Wounded.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 22.—An altercation occurred in a restaurant in Columbia, last evening, between Mr. Montgomery, President of the State Senate, and Samuel Melton, the regular Republican candidate for the office of Attorney-General. In the mêlée Mr. John D. Caldwell and Major J. M. Morgan, two friends of Mr. Melton, who interfered to separate the combatants, were shot. Caldwell was instantly killed and Morgan slightly wounded. The verdict of a Coroner's jury charges George Tupper, a friend of Montgomery, with the willful and malicious shooting of Caldwell. The affair, owing to the social position of the participants, causes much excitement.

OCEAN MAIL SERVICE.

Text of the Award to the White Star Line.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The following is the text of the award for the contract for carrying the ocean mail, to the White Star line:

In the matter of the application by the Oceanic Steam Navigation Company, the Liverpool, New-York and Philadelphia Steam-ship Company, and the North German Lloyds, of Bremen, to contract for the conveyance of the Saturdays' mail from New-York to Great Britain, &c., it is ordered, after a full and careful hearing of the claims of each of said companies as presented by the agents thereof in respect to their ability to perform the mail service with celerity, certainty and security, as follows, viz.: First, that contract be made with the Oceanic Steam Navigation Company, White Star line, for the transportation of the mails for the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, from New-York to Queenstown, Ireland, on Saturday of each week for a contract term commencing Oct. 1, 1872, and ending Dec. 31, 1873, at the sea postages on mails conveyed as full compensation for the service, the statements presented showing the average speed of the steamers of that line from Jan. 1, 1872, to the present time to have been greater by about twelve hours than the average speed of the steamers of the Liverpool and New-York and Philadelphia Steam-ship Company and of the Inman line during the same period. The application of the Bremen line for the conveyance from New-York to Southampton of the regular mails for the United Kingdom is declined because great expedition is secured by the delivery of such mails at Queenstown.

To insure prompt and regular service by the steamers of the White Star line, insert in the contract a stipulation for the forfeiture of the sum of $5,000 for the failure which may occur in the dispatch of mails on Saturdays according to schedule, by a steamer of approved speed, and the further stipulation that the Postmaster-General may annul the contract at any time on account of any failure or other irregularity in the prompt performance of the mail service according to contract.

Second, that a contract be made with the North German Lloyds, of Bremen, for the conveyance, during the same term, from New-York, on Saturday of each week, of all closed mails for the Continent of Europe, the same to be landed at Southampton, England, the compensation to be limited to the amount of sea-postage on the mails conveyed, and the contract to contain similar stipulations in respect to forfeiture and annulment; reserve the right in the contract with the White Star Line to send all letters and other mail matter received at the Post-office on Saturdays, after closing the mails for the steamers of said line, by the steamers of any other line sailing later on the same day.

JOHN H. J. CRESSWELL,
Postmaster-General.

Death from a Prize-Fight.

PHILADELPHIA, Penn., Sept. 22.—Cornelius Driscoll, aged twenty-four, about a week ago had a fight with one Howard Price. They were to have contended in a prize-fight; but this was declared off by the stake-holder, as Price did not come to time. The parties met privately the same day, and, from a blow received at the time, it is alleged, the death of Driscoll was caused, he having died on Saturday. The principal and seconds in the fight have been taken into custody.

The Bank return published this morning exhibits the relative strength of the movement in respect to the lawful money held, as against the Circulation and Deposits, to which we add the position of the movement the week before, and also of the movement of the corresponding week last year:

	Sept. 14, '72.	Sept. 21, '72.	Sept. 23, '71.
Deposits	$209,546,000	$201,127,800	$237,127,400

Rate of money	4@6 ₽ ct.	7 ₽ ct.	6@7 ₽ ct.

*Deficiency.

The Bank return corresponds with the excitement of the Week in the various Wall-street markets. The movement is weakened in Greenbacks by the exceptional means taken by certain Gold and Stock speculators, operating for a rise in Gold and for a fall in Stocks, to make it weak. We find on reference to our files of last year that almost the identical state of things occurred in the third week of September, 1871, brought about, singular to say, by the manipulation of the same Brokers and after the same manner. They advanced Gold from 114 to 115⅛, and withdrew so large a sum of Greenbacks from Bank as to make the loss of the week $5,393,000 and to bring down the lawful money in Bank close upon the line of 25 ₽ cent., as they now bring it slightly below the line. The Deposits fell off $9,769,000, as they now fall off $8,418,000, and the Loans fell off $3,503,000, as they now fall off $3,805,000.

The Banks, as a rule, paid less regard to their lawful money average throughout the week than they would have done but for the extraordinary trickery resorted to by way of promoting a money panic, and the Street was so well prepared for a weak statement from the Banks on Saturday afternoon that the Stock Market rather stiffened on the announcement. At the same time it is proper to remark that the demand for Money, for mercantile and Southern and Western trade purposes, is active at very full rates—9 ₽ cent.—and beyond the ability of the City Banks to accommodate their Country correspondents by discounting their collections. The private Deposits and Country Bank balances are now $36,000,000 below this time last year, while the crops to be moved are larger, and by a volume of Greenbacks and National Bank Notes no lighter, in the aggregate, than last September, while $14,000,000 less is at present on hand in the New-York Banks.

The manipulations of Gold during the week resulted in no very substantial profit to the clique using the Gold market to lock up Money and break down Stocks. They made high rates for lending Gold, which other large holders of the Cash Gold, like the Canada Banks, availed of, and so weakened the lending terms. They bought the $1,000,000 sold by the Treasury, then advanced the price to 115@115⅛ ₽ cent., and, the second day thereafter, saw Gold lending flat—that is, free of bonus for its use, and the price down to 113⅜ ₽ cent. These people probably made better use of the decline which their pressure upon the Money market brought about, as report says they bought Stocks freely, by way of partially covering their short interest, at low, (but not the lowest,) figures.

Foreign Exchange was much disturbed by the condition of the Gold and money movements, and for a day or two Bills on London were scarcely salable at all, and even at the close of the week the 60 days rates were down to 107½ ₽ cent. for standard names. The sight rates, because of the rise of Interest in London to 4 ₽ cent., were sold at a difference of 1@1½ ₽ cent.

The Public Funds showed improvement after the purchase of $3,000,000 United States 5-20s for the Sinking Fund on Wednesday. On the appearance of some orders for London, it was found that the Sinking Fund purchase had nearly exhausted the supply of 5-20s of 1867, and some other classes, and prices advanced ⅛@⅜ ₽ cent.

The Import Entries in New-York, embracing Foreign Dry Goods and General Merchandise, for the week past, were $9,071,599, against $8,509,299 for the corresponding week last year. The exports of Domestic Produce, other than Gold and Silver, were $5,226,000, against $4,228,364 same week in 1871. The export of Gold and Silver, $315,358, against $400,599 same week in 1871. The Customs in Gold paid into the New-York Office of the United States Treasury for the week were $3,056,000.

The Gold values of the Import Entries of Foreign Merchandise at New-York, exclusive of Foreign Specie, since Jan. 1, 1872, are as follows, the figures being official to Aug. 1, and since semi-official from the Custom-house:

January	$35,637,174	Aug. 10	$9,254,068
February	38,028,442	Aug. 17	10,139,106
March	38,927,070	Aug. 24	9,162,526

The fluctuations on the Stock Exchange were somewhat violent on Tuesday and Wednesday, though not running, as at one time they threatened to do, into panic. By the close of the week prices for the Railroads had nearly recovered to the quotations of the previous Saturday, while Western Telegraph and Pacific Mail had recovered about half the extreme decline, as will be noticed by reference to the above table. The business of the week in all the Share list was unusually heavy in amount, and several days registered 350,000 to 375,000 shares.

FISH—There has been more inquiry noted for desirable lots at firmer prices. We quote: Dry Cod at $5 50@$6 ₽ cwt.; No. 1 Mackerel at $13@$16; No. 2 do. at $10 25@$11 50; No. 3 do. at $5 50@$7 50 ₽ bbl.; Pickled Herring, $3 50@$5 50; Smoked Herring, 30c. for Scale, and 15c. for No. 1, ₽ box.

FLOUR AND MEAL—State and Western Flour has been in comparatively limited request, since our last, with the advantage as to price in favor of purchasers. Sales have been reported since our last of 12,100 bbls., including inferior to choice Superfine State and Western at $6 20@$6 85, chiefly at $6 50@$6 75; inferior to very good Extra at $7 35@$7 85, chiefly at $7 40@$7 70; very good to fancy at $7 85@$8 26; poor to good shipping Extra Western at $7 35@$7 85; poor to good shipping brands round-hoop Ohio at $7 40@$7 85, ₽ bbl.; and trade and family brands at proportionate rates.

Southern Flour has been moderately sought after and quoted about steady. Sales have been reported since our last of 1,250 bbls., at $6@$8 35 for very inferior to very good, and $8 35@$12 50 for very good to very choice Extra, ₽ bbl. Rye Flour has been in moderate demand at from $4 20@$5 25 ₽ bbl.; sales, 250 bbls., chiefly at $5@$5 25 ₽ bbl. Corn-meal has been in brisk request at $3 40@$3 75 for Yellow Western, chiefly at $3 60@$3 75; $3 55@$3 70 for Jersey, and $3 90 for Brandywine; the reported sales reach 1,375 bbls., in lots.

GRAIN—Wheat has attracted less attention, the export call having been limited, checked, in part, by the firmer range of freights, and the milling inquiry confined to pressing wants. Prices of desirable grades have not varied materially, though the advantage seemed in favor of purchasers, especially on grades of Spring, below strictly prime. Sales have been reported since our last of 64,000 bushels at $1 58 for straight new No. 2 Chicago Spring; $1 53 for good No. 3 do.; $1 45@$1 50 for inferior and ordinary new Spring; $1 70 for (a full boat-load) Red Western, in store, for milling; $1 65@$1 72½ for do., in small lots; $1 77@$1 80 for Amber do., and $1 95@$2 for White do. ....Corn has been moderately active, opening rather more firmly but closing less buoyantly. The export movement has been checked to some extent by the further rise in freights. Sales have been reported since our last of 165,000 bushels, at 65c.@65½c., closing at about 65c.@65½c. for prime sailing-vessel grades, afloat; 66c. for High Mixed do.; 63½c.@64¾ for poor to choice steamer grades of new Mixed Western, afloat; 66c.@67c. for Yellow Western; 65c.@69c. for White Western; 58c.@62c. for damaged Mixed Western in lots, ₽ bushel....For forward delivery the market was quiet, but rates were quoted firm....Rye dull, but unchanged as to price....Barley nominal....Of Barley Malt, 2,000 bushels four-rowed States sold at $1 17½, ₽ bushel; market unaltered....Of bonded Canada Peas further sales of 2,000 bushels, in store, were sold at 97½c., in bulk, the previous price....Oats have been in less demand, but quoted about steady. The chief dealings were in old Mixed Western, in store. Sales have been reported since our last of 45,000 bushels at 43c.@46c. for ordinary to very good new Mixed Western; 41c.@44c. for inferior to new good Black and Dark Mixed; 46c.@50c. for poor to prime new White Western, and 52c.@55c. for White State; 47c. for prime old Mixed Western, in store. The week's exports include 9,633 bbls. Flour, 460,234 bushels Wheat, 932,010 bushels Corn, 18,705 bushels Rye.

HIDES—Have shown more firmness, on a fairly active business, with less urgent offerings of stock. The week's receipts have been 26,569 Hides; sales, 79,200 Hides and 350 bales do., the latter including, according to Messrs. Hull & Co.: 19,730 Dry Buenos Ayres, 22@24 lbs., at 25c.@25¼c.; 1,500 Dry Buenos Ayres, 27@29 lbs., at 25c.@25¼c.; 2,960 Dry Buenos Ayres Cows, 21@22 lbs., at 24½c.@25c.; 5,810 Dry Entre Rios, 22@22½ lbs., at 25c.; 7,560 Dry Montevideo, 20½@21 lbs., at 25c.; 4,000 Dry Rio Grande, 20@20½ lbs., at 25c.; 4,220 Dry Buenos Ayres, Montevideo and Rio Grande Kips, 10@12 lbs., at 26c.½@27c.; 6,000 Dry Orinoco, 20@22½ lbs., at 23½c.; 4,500 Dry California (part to arrive,) 22@24 lbs., at 22½c., gold, selected; 2,700 Dry Central American, 19@22 lbs., at 20½c.@21c.; 700 Dry Vera Cruz, &c., 20 lbs., at 20½c.; 3,900 Dry Matamoras 22@24 lbs., at 20c.@20½c., gold, as they run; 700 Dry Salted Matamoras, 30 lbs., 20½c.; 2,800 Dry Corpus Christi, 22 lbs., at 21½c.; 1,700 Dry Mexican, 24@25 lbs., at 21½c.; 6,700 Dry Mexican Kips, 10@11 lbs., at 24c.@28c.; 3,800 Dry Texas (part to arrive,) 22 lbs., at 20½c.; 1,600 Dry Texas Kips, 10 lbs., at 21c.@21½c.; 500 Wet-salted Matamoras, 48 lbs., at 14c.; 4,100 Wet-salted Texas, 50 lbs., at 13c.; 600 City Ox, 70 lbs., at 12½c., currency as they run; 350 bales Calcutta Buffalo, 20@22 lbs., 13c.@13½c., gold, selected. The stock on hand is 237,200 Hides and 1,864 bales (same time last year 103,709 Hides and 1,150 bales,) as follows: 101,000 Dry Buenos Ayres, &c., 59,000 Dry Montevideo, &c., 49,000 Dry Rio Grande, 3,900 Dry Orinoco, 4,000 Dry Central American, 590 Dry Porto Cabello, 8,900 Dry Sierra Leone, (African,) 2,000 Dry California, 6,000 Dry and Salted Mexican, 3,000 Dry and Salted Texas and Southern, 864 bales Calcutta Buffalo, 1,000 bales Calcutta Cow.

MOLASSES—Nominally unchanged; no important sales.

NAVAL STORES—Very quiet throughout, with Strained Resin quoted steady at $4 35 ₽ 280 lbs.; Spirits Turpentine rather easier at 61½c., with sales of 110 bbls.

PETROLEUM—Has been very moderately inquired for on the basis of 11c. for Crude, in bulk, and 24½c. for Refined here, with sales of 1,700 bbls. Refined at the quoted rates....Philadelphia quotations as in our last....Naphtha wanted at firm rates.

PROVISIONS—Pork has been comparatively slow of sale since our last, at about former quotations. There was an exceptionally good demand for extra Prime. Sales have been reported of 1,060 bbls., in lots, at $14 05@$14 25 for full and job lots of new Western Mess; $13 50 for old do.; $13 for Prime Mess; $11 50 for (760 bbls.) Extra Prime, ₽ bbl. For forward delivery the demand has been quite tame, with Western Mess, seller September and October, quoted nominally at $14 05@$14 10....City-dressed Hogs have been in reduced stock and better demand at from 6¾c.@7¼c., chiefly at 6¾c.@7c., ₽ lb....Cut-meats have been inactive, with Dry-salted and Pickled Hams ranging from 13c.@14½c.; Shoulders at 6½c.@8c., and Bellies at 8c.@9c. ₽ lb. A New Ocean Steam-Ship for a New Line.

The Weekly Mail, of Cardiff, Wales, gives a description of the Glamorgan, a new steamship, which has been in process of construction for the last sixteen months in the ship-yard of Messrs. Wm. Simons & Co., of Renfrew, and has just been successfully launched. She is to belong to the line of the South Wales Atlantic Steam-ship Company, a new line which has been recently established between New-York and Cardiff. A large portion of the capital of this Company has been subscribed by gentlemen in Glasgow. Two steamers are to be put upon the line at first, and a third as soon as she can be constructed. The name of the second ship is to be the Carmarthen. The voyages at first will be every six weeks, and as soon as the Carmarthen is completed every three weeks. When the third vessel is added to the fleet the trips will be fortnightly. The Company promise that the voyages by its line will be as expeditious and agreeable as those of any Atlantic vessels which sail from the shores of Great Britain. The Mail says of the advantages which this line will secure as regards traffic:

"At the back of Cardiff lies an enormous and densely populated district, access to which by various lines of railway is now rendered most easy and convenient. The Great Western Railway with its altered gauge and the London and North-western, now that it possesses direct communication between Cardiff and the North, must inevitably act as important feeders. Not only will South Wales send out its constant swarms of hardy emigrants, its iron, tin plates, copper and metallic riches, for all of which there is a limitless demand in the United States, but it will receive with equal facility from the great continent its superabundant supplies of corn, cheese, bacon and provisions, all of which will be readily absorbed in the great industrial centres of the principality. In order to facilitate the trade to be conducted by means of the new line of steamers, Mr. Boyle has recently been in America, and has made most advantageous arrangements with Mr. J. Edgar Thompson, the President of the Central Pennsylvania Railroad."

Concerning the Glamorgan, the new steamer, the Mail says:

"The Glamorgan is a brig-rigged screw steamer. Both out of water and in she presents the appearance of a very handsome model. Her dimensions are as follows: Draught when light, 10 feet 6 inches; loaded, 20 feet 9 inches; length over all, 335 feet; breadth, 36 feet 6 inches; depth, 28 feet 9 inches; registered tonnage, 2,500 tons. Her lower masts are iron, but though provided with ample sailing power, she will, of course, mainly depend upon her engines for means of progression. Her engines are on the compound high and low pressure system, of 450 horse-power; actual 1,800. They are fitted with four cylinders, two of 36 inches diameter, two of 72 inches diameter, and 35 inches stroke. The cylinders are steam-jacketed all over, and have the latest appliances for working economically.

The internal arrangements of the Glamorgan include all of the latest improvements which have been adapted to sea-going steamers. She contains accommodations for sixty saloon passengers, twenty-six second cabin passengers, and for ninety-six intermediate passengers. The officers are Capt. Leyburne, First Officer, Mr. Williams; Second Officer, Mr. Sansom; Chief Engineer, Mr. Nicol."

The Glamorgan will make her first voyage from Cardiff to New-York in the first or second week of October, and will discharge freight and passengers at the Pensylvania Central Railroad docks.

The agents of the Company in this City are Archibald, Baxter & Co., No. 17 Broadway.

SECOND CAMPAIGN SUPPLEMENT.

⁂ We beg to announce that we shall publish on Wednesday the SECOND CAMPAIGN EDITION of the NEW-YORK TIMES. It will be a paper of great value and interest, containing many articles specially written for it, and a very large collection of SHORT QUOTATIONS from the best letters and speeches which have been published during the canvass. These selections will be pithy and full of point, and must prove of great service to clubs, speakers, and newspapers. They have been prepared with great care, and names and dates are carefully given in every case.

This edition will also contain a categorical refutation of the slanders against Gen. GRANT; an account of GREELEY'S partnership with "Boss" TWEED; a summary of GREELEY'S Secession Record; a reply to the attacks upon Gen. HARTRANFT; Mr. GREELEY'S letters recommending bad men to office; an exposure of the Oakes Ames slander concocted by C. A. DANA and the managing editor of the Tribune; an article showing who wrote the order "Shoot Him on the Spot," with a letter from Secretary STANTON never before published; and many other articles of value. There will also be some account of

as a Reformer.

The above is only an outline of the contents of this special supplement—the best campaign paper ever issued, and one which will be indispensable to Republicans throughout the country. Full particulars will be shortly published.

We printed and sold 275,000 copies of the first supplement, and they were circulated in every State of the Union. Of this edition we shall print at least an equal number.

The small space which we had set aside for advertisements is taken up, and we can receive no further applications.

The supplement will be sold at $2 per hundred, or three cents each for single copies.

The Council of Political Reform has received the co-operation of Mr. OSWALD OTTENDORFER, Mr. ROYAL PHELPS, and many other influential gentlemen in its effort to secure united action on the part of the reform bodies now existing in this City. We regard this as a most necessary and important work, and we hope our readers will attend the meeting today at the Cooper Union, in order that they may learn the arrangements which are proposed in reference to it. The speakers will be gentlemen well and favorably known to the public. Some steps ought to be taken at once to secure good men for members of Assembly, and for local offices, not forgetting the Judiciary. We hope to hear from the Bar Association on the latter subject. Time is precious now, and not a day should be lost.

Is it not about time to stop comparing the Greeley campaign with that of HARRISON in 1840? There is one important difference between them, which the Greeley papers carefully ignore. In 1840 HARRISON'S strength at the polls far exceeded all anticipations. In 1872, GREELEY'S strength in every election, North and South, has been far less than his backers boasted it would be, and now they are obliged to admit that their candidate's position is desperate. Time and common sense are doing their inevitable work on the Greeley fraud.

Now that our City churches have reopened, might it not be worth while for the pastors to consider whether it is a wise proceeding to borrow so liberally from secular music in the services? In some of our Episcopal churches, especially, the service too often recalls the operatic performance of the previous day. Florid accompaniments, and airs taken bodily from operas, have superseded those simple compositions to which our forefathers were accustomed to listen in their churches, and which haunt the memory even of those who do not go to church quite so regularly as they did when they were young. The associations of religion are a powerful force, and surely they ought to be sacred associations, and not mere reminiscences of the play-house. They do opera better at the Academy of Music than at any of our churches, and it is a great mistake for our ministers to permit any rivalry with NILSSON or LUCCA. There are many people, now growing old, who are more deeply touched by some simple hymn-tune which they heard in their youth, than by all the operatic selections which could be offered them. Recollections of this kind are not likely to be implanted in the minds of the young people who now go to some of our fashionable churches.

One of our correspondents has been through the coal regions of Pennsylvania in search of Greeley Republicans. He explains with what success in a letter which we publish today. The slanders upon HARTRANFT have not done much harm in that section of Pennsylvania, and if our Republican friends keep on working, down to the very last minute, with the energy and determination they have hitherto shown, we shall look for the triumphant election of the State ticket.

Mr. Greeley's Portrait—By Himself.

Mr. GREELEY'S campaign speeches are the most remarkable productions which our political history has seen. Even the wanderings of ANDREW JOHNSON, and the records thereof by Mr. Petroleum V. Nasby, furnish nothing which, for sheer and obstinate folly, can equal this series of wayside babblings. Had Mr. GREELEY determined, before setting out on his journey, to justify every essential allegation in regard to the foolishness and waywardness of his mind, and its incapacity to deal with serious affairs in a practical manner, he could hardly have made speeches different from those actually reported. It has been objected to Mr. GREELEY as a Presidential candidate that he was averse to comprehensive views, and likely to be carried away by notions of very inferior importance. Can any one deny this of a man who declares that he is, "above all things, the candidate of universal amnesty"—i. e., that he asks the country to elect him President, that he may do what he can to remove the disqualification to hold office from a baker's dozen of the original plotters of secession in each of the lately rebellious States? His critics have declared that he was unjust to his opponents, and given to violent misrepresentation of their motives. Does not this find ample proof in the malignant attack made by Mr. GREELEY on the Soldiers' Convention at Pittsburg, which he charged with endeavoring to stir up hatred, and treated generally in a most offensive and even scurrilous tone? Even Mr. GREELEY'S admirers admit that he is sometimes blinded by partisan zeal to well-established historical facts. His opponents believe that this is carried by him to such an extent that it would seriously impair his impartiality and independence as the Executive of the nation. Who can doubt that it would, after reading the gross misstatements of Mr. GREELEY concerning the temper of the portion of the South he now represents with reference to the conditions of reconstruction? He declares that the South surrendered their arms, abolished slavery, abandoned the rebel debt, relinquished all claims for slave property, gave the negro a vote, and acknowledged the perpetuity of the Union. In point of fact, all these things were obtained from the South either by compulsion, as was the case with the surrender of their arms, or by means of the negro vote co-operating with the Republican party of the North, as was the case with all the other matters mentioned. To all these measures the Southerners, who now support Mr. GREELEY as the forlorn hope of the lost cause, were bitterly and persistently opposed. Is a man capable of such wide variations from familiar truths the kind of man required for President of the United States?

One of the very gravest causes of the universal distrust of Mr. GREELEY is that in financial and business matters he has the zeal of a theorist combined with a rooted ignorance of the subject. Does not this view of him exactly tally with the exhibition he made of himself before the Louisville Chamber of Commerce? He there reiterated his notion that the Government ought to resume specie payments, without specie enough to pay with, and ought to part with all its gold to prevent its falling into the hands of gold gamblers. The naked statement of these preposterous crotchets is enough to expose the character of the mind that could entertain them.

But the one thing which makes reasonable and patriotic men fear to see Mr. GREELEY in power is, that in the trying period of our history he was unreservedly in favor of granting the right of secession. Could it be supposed that, after this nation had gone through what it has to bury that doctrine forever—to wipe every vestige of it out of American politics—a man could be found who, in the character of a Presidential candidate, would reannounce this position, and declare his present as well as his past adherence to it? At Pittsburg he asserted that he would have consented to let the Southern States go, if, on a fair vote, they had decided to do so, and he says that if a similar case were now presented he "would take the chances." That Mr. GREELEY'S mind was weak enough to admit this crazy and mischievous idea in 1860 is enough to deprive him forever of the confidence of the American people; but that, after all the lessons of the war, and after the exhaustive discussion of the force and scope of our Constitution, and the needs of the nation to which the war gave rise, he should now proclaim the same idea as a guide for judgment of his future course, is a piece of folly too glaring to need exposure. We speak that which any of Mr. GREELEY'S friends can confirm by very limited observation when we say that these speeches have given rise to a very general impression that their author is forfeiting the few chances of election he ever had. The vices of his mind are incurable. He may be more consumed by ambition in this last desperate struggle for public honors. But even this is a difference of degree, not of kind. The same erratic, self-confident, narrow-minded politician he is now he has been for many years. That neither himself nor his friends could prevent his making this last display of his unfitness for the grave and delicate office to which he aspires, is a matter for congratulation.

The War Record of Francis Kernan.

It has been boastingly asserted, as an argument in his favor, that FRANCIS KERNAN defeated Hon. ROSCOE CONKLING in the Oneida Congressional canvass of 1862. This is true—the unearthing of the fact is the only justification we need, for restating some other facts, with reference to that election. Mr. KERNAN was elected as a War Democrat, by a majority of less than eighty votes. But this alone would not have elected him. An unblushing and notorious expenditure of money did the business. This money came from the unclean coffers of a man not unknown to the readers of the TIMES as a leader of the gang of villains whose professional business it is to debauch the legislators and legislation of the State. We refer to the lobbyists, and to A. D. BARBER, their King. Mr. KERNAN is welcome to all the aid and comfort he can obtain from the fact that BARBER, the briber, was his friend and champion in 1862, as he has been ever since, and is now.

The moral of this story was pointed in 1864. The people then, as always, repudiated false pretenses, disloyal action, and corrupt combinations. FRANCIS KERNAN again asked the people of Oneida for their suffrages. They looked to his pledges, two years previous, and to his record for which he asked indorsement. That record showed every one of those pledges broken, trampled, and outraged. Let us see exactly wherein and how.

KERNAN went to Washington under pledges to support all constitutional measures for the support of the war, and the allegation was freely made in his behalf that President LINCOLN would find in him a truer supporter than in the Republican candidate. In the very organization of the House, Mr. KERNAN voted for a resolution, the effect of which would have been to exclude Union men enough, whose seats were not contested, to secure the majority for the opponents of the Administration. He voted for pronounced peace men for officers of the House. All through the session he voted for every proposal to censure or denounce the Administration. He opposed the tabling of a resolution condemnatory of the President's plan of amnesty for bringing back the seceded States. He voted against tabling the notorious secessionist, FERNANDO WOOD'S aspersions on the national authorities for "demoralization and incapacity." He voted for a resolution denouncing the trial and imprisonment of VALLANDIGHAM as "illegal and unwarrantable." He was publicly branded as a maligner for charges which he made against the Government in relation to the transportation of soldiers to vote in Pennsylvania. He voted against every bill introduced for the raising of troops. On every stage of the Enrollment bill, Mr. KERNAN voted or paired against it.

If this is not the record of a Copperhead, false to every pledge so freely made, what is it? If the people desire to know just how bitterly and enormously hostile to the Union cause Mr. KERNAN was, let them read his Congressional speeches, and they will hold up their hands in amazement that this man should dare come before the people of the Empire State and ask their suffrages.

Mr. KERNAN was not only an original believer in and upholder of slavery, but he clung to his man-selling doctrines right through the war. It was not merely a devotion to the Constitution. That plea he knocked from under himself by his votes. When joint resolutions were under consideration to amend the Constitution, in accordance with its express provisions, so as to prohibit slavery by the fundamental law, Mr. KERNAN voted against the proposal. After three years of war, Mr. KERNAN cast the same votes on the slavery question which JEFF. DAVIS would have cast, had he been in Mr. KERNAN'S seat instead of at the head of the slave rebellion.

But the blackest and most damaging spot in Mr. KERNAN'S war record has not to do with his votes in Congress. Let us state it here, as a sample of Kernan patriotism, exactly as it occurred, and exactly as a number of men who witnessed it are willing to make affidavit that it occurred: Previous to and during the Winter of 1863, Mr. KERNAN was a director in the Savings Bank of Utica. This institution had a large amount invested in Government stocks—about half a million dollars. This was in accordance with the specific prescriptions of its charter for the investment of deposits, it giving the first preference to national securities.

Upon these national bonds, the interest was paid regularly in coin, making a most remunerative investment. During that Winter Mr. KERNAN came home from Congress. He distinctly predicted the failure of the war, the downfall of the Government, and the repudiation of the national debt. He counseled the Treasurer of the Bank to sell out the national stocks for such a price as he could obtain, although it was clear that no other available security could pay an equally high rate of interest. The Treasurer declined to do so. Mr. KERNAN insisted. He procured a meeting of the Board of Directors. Through his sole instrumentality a resolution was introduced, expressive of Mr. KERNAN'S views, and directing the Treasurer to pursue the course by Mr. KERNAN recommended. The resolution was ventilated by gentlemen whose names can be given if necessary, and was subsequently rejected, receiving only three votes in its favor, one of them being cast by the gentleman who now asks to be made Governor of this State. Baffled in his purpose, and declaring that he could not consent to remain a director of an institution in which his countrymen were depositors, and whose funds were invested in the stocks issued by the Government of his country, Mr. KERNAN resigned. Within six months from that day the bonds had increased in value fifty thousand dollars.

So blind and intense was Mr. KERNAN'S hostility to the Union in the hour when it needed, most of all, loyal and courageous sons, that he struck not only at the Government, but at the interests of the bank depositors, who were his constituents.

With such a record—loving slavery, hating and fighting the Government openly in Congress, and secretly and clandestinely among his neighbors—Mr. KERNAN went into the Congressional campaign of 1864. Mr. CONKLING was his opponent this time, as before. A. D. BARBER was KERNAN'S ally, counselor and chief manager this time, as before. And the loyal people of Oneida County put their foot upon that man who had betrayed them into sending him where he could stab a Government they loved, though he did not. They buried FRANCIS KERNAN under a majority of 1,150—larger than any which has since been polled in Oneida, save twice. For the first time since the people thus told him what they thought of him, Mr. KERNAN now emerges from the privacy in which he was then glad to hide himself, and asks them to reward him with the Chief Magistracy of the State that stood so gallantly by LINCOLN through the war. He relies upon their having forgotten the story of his past. It shall be no fault of ours, if they prove themselves thus sadly forgetful. Neither will it be our work to record the shameful fact that a man whose vote, and voice, and brain, and influence, were all enlisted to aid rebellion, has beaten the stanch patriot, Gen. DIX, who never wearied in patriotic well-doing through all the years that FRANCIS KERNAN was making the kind of history of which we have given some samples.

The Health of New-York.

The last weekly meeting of the Board of Health showed a less favorable state of affairs than the corresponding week last year; but on the whole, it is better than we should have expected from the oppressive weather of the past Summer. The debilitating influence of long-continued heat sometimes produces its most fatal effects after the return of cool weather. There was some ground of apprehension that this might be the case the present year, and we are exceedingly glad to find that the City has happily escaped such a result.

There is probably not in the world a large city which enjoys so great natural advantages for health as New-York. If our readers will for a moment consider the position and surroundings of London, of Paris, of St. Petersburg, of Vienna, or of Berlin—of Boston, of Philadelphia, of Baltimore, of Cincinnati, of Chicago, of St. Louis, or of New-Orleans—they will, we think, find little difficulty in agreeing with this statement. The only great city we can think of which ought, perhaps, to be made an exception to the remark, is Constantinople, and there—it is painful to speak thus, even of the Turks—the management of municipal affairs is such that the natural sanitary advantages are even more neglected and neutralized than here.

There is just enough of exposure to the ocean in the position of New-York to be in the highest possible degree beneficial. Boston has too much. Even those inhabitants of the "Athens of America," who are most fully conscious of the proud pre-eminence from which it looks down upon all other cities, acknowledge the east winds. Philadelphia, Baltimore, and, of course, the Western cities, have no sea air at all. Besides this, there are few large cities in the world where the facilities for drainage are as good as they are here. London, for instance, is very far inferior to us in this respect. The Thames does not compare for this purpose with the Hudson and East Rivers. The nature of the soil, also, is in a much larger portion of most cities of a character disadvantageous to health than it is on Manhattan Island. With the exception of the comparatively moderate heat of European Summers, we can scarcely think of an advantage in reference to healthfulness enjoyed by a single large city on the face of the earth which is not possessed in an equal or greater degree by New-York.

This view of the situation of this City is fully borne out by figures, in those portions of it in which the legitimate effect of this situation has an opportunity to show itself. Mr. BRACE, in his recent work on The Dangerous Classes of New-York, mentions the remarkable fact that in some of our Wards the annual death-rate is only about that of the Isle of Wight. If America were still a wilderness, and the question where to lay the foundation of the future Metropolis of the continent were to be decided by some despotic power, after the manner in which the Russian Government determines such points, no better place, in reference to natural healthfulness of situation, could be fixed upon than just the position which our Metropolis now occupies.

Of the causes which tend to counteract the advantages of our natural situation, there are a great many which no Municipal Government could prevent. The ignorance, the vice, and the degradation of certain classes of our population would exist, and would produce their effects, if every man connected with our City Government were the most suitable individual that could possibly be selected for the particular class of duties devolved upon him. But, while this is fully taken into account, the fact still stands out in terrible relief that there is no other city in the civilized world where, throughout a long series of years, the local authorities have deliberately and continuously neglected to avail themselves of our great natural facilities for mitigating those unfavorable influences upon health, which are incident to the very existence of an immense City like this.

Sheriff Brennan as a "Reformer."

By throwing a "liberal" supply of mud all around, FENTON'S Professor of Journalism evidently supposes that he can succeed in diverting public attention from the misdeeds of Mr. GREELEY'S champions in this City. Foremost among this precious set of so-called "Reformers," stands MATTHEW T. BRENNAN, a man who, in his quality of Sheriff, has perpetrated barefaced frauds upon the tax-payers. On the 15th of June last, the first of a series of articles establishing BRENNAN'S guilt in the most conclusive manner, was published in the TIMES; but, although we have repeatedly invited the Tribune to copy the main facts, not a single word on the subject has yet appeared in that journal. The charges against the Sheriff, which, by the way, have been proved by his own sworn statement, are:

I. While empowered by law to collect fifty cents from the county for every commitment, he actually demanded and obtained $1 50, or three times that amount, by charging for each arrest, swelling his fees in this way for 1871 from $25,733 to $77,310 50—clear fraudulent overcharge $51,567 50. In addition to this sum there was $73,302 01, for regular quarterly fees, making the whole amount paid to Sheriff BRENNAN during the year, $150,612 51.

II. In January, 1872, there were 2,236 commitments. Of the legal charge of fifty cents each, this would amount to $1,118. The Sheriff made out his bill for arrests, of which there were 11,095. At fifty cents each, this would give a total of $5,547 50—fraudulent overcharge $4,429 50. In February, by the same means, he swindled the City out of $4,113, and in March out of $4,413.

III. "For conveying prisoners to prisons other than the State Prison, for the quarter ending March 31, 1872," he charges $9,847 25, being at the rate of $1 75 each for 5,627 prisoners. Our reporter, having investigated this particular item, found that during the time specified only 340 prisoners had been sentenced to the Penitentiary from the Special and General Sessions, so that BRENNAN really charged $28 97 each for the removal, instead of $1 75. Fraudulent overcharge, $9,252 25.

IV. In the early part of 1863, he (BRENNAN) leased to the City for a period of ten years a portion of the building situated at the corner of Pearl and Centre streets, which was owned and formerly occupied by him as a dance-house. The stipulated rental was $2,800 per annum. Seven years after the lease had been registered he induced the Board of Aldermen, through his faithful "Ring" ally, THOMAS COMAN, to annul this instrument and have a new one drawn up in the name of his brother, OWEN W. BRENNAN, for ten years, at a rental of $7,500, thus defrauding the City out of $14,100 for the three unexpired years of the old lease.

In addition to the foregoing charges, BRENNAN would have a perfect avalanche of minor complaints hurled against him, if all those who have been wronged with his sanction could have a chance to offer testimony. His deputies have been permitted to plunder with much more freedom than the subordinates of a bandit chief. They have invariably carried away the choicest wines and cigars from the liquor-saloons that have fallen to their charge. From the drugstores they have selected the costliest essences and most attractive ornaments, and from the furniture warehouses the most elaborately-carved specimens. Horses temporarily confided to them, pending decisions in the Courts, have been driven in the Central Park at the expense of their owners, and a thousand and one other illegal acts committed, that cannot be enumerated in an article of ordinary length.

Now the Tribune has more than once intimated that BRENNAN has been grossly libeled by the publication of these charges, and that, too, in the face of the evidence we have produced. It has time and again, alluded to him as among the "Reformers" of Tammany. However, the real point of the matter amounts to this: BRENNAN is credited with having control over a large number of votes in the Sixth and other wards; these votes are wanted for GREELEY next November, and in return for their delivery, the swindles of the Sheriff are allowed to remain quietly in the background.

Heroes and Assassins.

The peculiar sort of wickedness which finds delight in throwing railway trains off the track is difficult to explain on any basis short of total depravity or absolute insanity. And when this abominable villainy is perpetrated by children for mere sport, one is almost inclined to give credence to that unflattering theory of human origin which finds our ancestors in the gorilla. Two or three years ago, a couple of little boys, it will be remembered, were caught obstructing the track of a Pennsylvania railway, at a spot where the destruction of the coming passenger-train was sure to be attended with fearful slaughter. When questioned as to their motives for attempting such a crime, these artless youngsters explained that they wanted to see "the funny way in which the cars would jump." A fit play-fellow for these sportive young assassins has just been found in England, where a lad named EVANS, aged sixteen, and described as the son of respectable parents, was not long since detected in placing obstructions on the Cambrian Railway. In this case discovery came too late to stop the train, which, however, passed over the obstacles in safety. Probably, in this case also, this ingenious youth was bent merely on innocent recreation.

In consoling contrast, however, to such instances of inexplicable malignity, cases are happily no less frequent where human life is freely and generously placed in peril to avert accidents of this nature. In the same paper which records young Master EVANS' pretty little joke, is chronicled the exploit of a brakeman named WATSON, who, seeing two men standing on the track, unconscious of the near approach of a swift express, rushed upon them and flung them in succession off the track, and into safety, at the imminent risk of his own destruction. This, too, was the second feat of the same sort he had performed. He had better fortune than that brave negro who, near Philadelphia, a few months ago, saved five lives in a similar way, at the expense of his own. Each of these men proved himself, in his humble fashion, as true a hero as the leader of a forlorn hope, or the victor of many battles.

Incidents like these, placed side by side, bring out in startling vividness the perplexing mass of contradictions which go to make up human nature. GOETHE once said that, examining the depths of his own soul, he could discern in himself a potential capacity for any crime. If such revelations are disheartening to the lover of his kind, there is comfort in the reflection, enforced by examples like these, that side by side with the elements of this possible baseness are also the seeds of all possible nobleness. And, perhaps, if we inquire into the problem shrewdly we shall find that it is not these track-obstructers who are so much to blame for their wickedness, as society, which fails properly to foster the better side of their natures. A more systematic development of that timely benevolence which exerts itself in the direction of Children's Aid Societies, and Summer excursions, may go far to diminish the followers of Master EVANS, and recruit the ranks of possible Watsons.

MINOR TOPICS.

The World had an article, yesterday, in which Dr. JOHNSON, BELSHAZZAR, DANIEL, and other celebrated personages figured very conspicuously, and in which (as a further compliment to Dr. JOHNSON) all the longest words in the dictionary were trotted out. The heavy Johnsonian style has always been popular in the World office; and on this occasion it was employed for the purpose of predicting that the Republican Presidential ticket would be defeated in November. Perhaps the writer drew his conclusions from the fact that in every State election thus far held, the Greeleyites have been signally beaten. Or he may have derived encouragement from the circumstance that the Congressional majorities just gained in Maine actually exceed those of 1868. When people are so easily satisfied it would be cruel to interfere with their harmless amusements.

Three Emperors—a German, an Austrian and a Russian—are holding a small Congress of their own in Vienna. Out of compliment to one another, they wear one another's clothing. As thus: At their first meeting the Russian Emperor wore a Prussian uniform and an Austrian order; the Austrian Emperor wore a Russian uniform and a Prussian order, and Emperor WILLIAM wore an Austrian uniform and a Russian order. Now, when these Imperial gentlemen desire to change their dress, it must be a perplexing problem for them to decide what uniforms, and what orders shall fall to each Emperor. Three Emperors with three sets of uniforms and three sorts of orders to be worn among them all—can each manage to make nine different toilets? If each Emperor had only himself to consult, he could make these nine changes without trouble, but when he has to make sure that neither of his two friends shall hit upon the same combination of uniform and order that he has chosen, the effort of mind required to properly arrange the matter must be gigantic, and the perplexity of the Imperial valets de chambre absolutely maddening.

Mr. GREELEY is determined to "conciliate" the original rebels. He referred on Saturday to his pet scheme of universal amnesty, and said:

> "Men say to me, 'Why, you don't want to elect TOOMBS or somebody else, do you?' No, I don't want to elect any of those men; but suppose other people do; who are you or who am I to say whether they shall or not?"

This makes a square issue, which is easily met. If Mr. GREELEY wants to know who have the right to say that JEFFERSON DAVIS, ROBERT TOOMBS, and their companions in hatching the treason of 1861, shall not again hold office in the United States, we answer, the American people. These men are, all technicalities aside, wicked traitors. Had they been hung as such seven years ago, the whole world, including a majority of the Southerners, would have conceded the justice of their fate. We are now asked to remove from our statute-book the last trace of disapproval of their treason, and invite the South to send them to the United States Senate. To this there can be but one answer. Any man who proposes it must be as blind as a bat to the temper of the people. Any man who, like Mr. GREELEY, proposes it to count Southern votes, is as wrong-hearted as he is wrong-headed.

It would seem that Mr. GREELEY'S Southern friends do not share in his professed desire for universal kindliness between opposing political parties. A party of them broke up a meeting of Republicans in Mobile, on Saturday evening, by an attack. We have no desire to magnify the importance of these incidents. They have frequently occurred in other campaigns. But then, as now, the Democrats were always the offenders, and Mr. GREELEY, as an apostle of peace, is, quoad hoc, a failure of the most melancholy character.

The railway ticket-agents have been holding a convention, and discussing, among other matters, the subject of "laying-over" tickets, as they elegantly call tickets which permit the holder to stop on his way and resume his journey subsequently. It would be better if these ticket-agents decided to abandon the fraudulent pretense that all railway tickets cannot be used in this way. The law, as decided over and over again, asserts that the man who buys a ticket from New-York to Albany has the right to stop at any station on the road for as long a time as he pleases, and afterward to resume his journey without buying another ticket. Yet it is the universal custom of all railway servants to ignore the law in this matter, and to demand extra fare in cases where a ticket is not used on the day of its date only. In most cases the traveler, even when he knows what his rights really are, submits to the imposition rather than incur the inconvenience of being ejected from the train. If the ticket-agents would decide to obey the law, instead of discussing "laying-over" tickets, they would show both their good sense and their honesty.

The Subcommittee of the Tammany General Committee for "reforming Tammany" consists of JOHN MORRISSEY, Justice LEDWITH, BILLY WALSH, and E. PLUM. If these are not true Reformers, where are you to find them?

We are obliged to make room today for twenty-eight columns of advertisements. Frequent supplements will enable us to keep pace with this demand upon our space, without depriving our readers of any news. We beg to call the attention of our advertising friends to the advantages offered them in our weekly paper, which now circulates in every part of the Union, and in numbers which make it the best medium for this kind of communication now open to the public.

Our City Charities.

The advent of September admonishes the poor who congregate in such numbers in all our large cities, that the interval dividing Summer from Winter is but a brief period at the best, and that following close upon the enfeebling heat of Summer, come the cold storms of Autumn and the dry breath of Winter. Our charitable societies have already had many premonitions of the heavy draughts that will be made upon them as the season advances. This is especially apparent now that the system of relief organized and put in operation by the TIMES has been suspended, and its beneficiaries notified that any further aid is not to be expected from that source. The results of the investigations authorized and planned by ourselves during the Summer months have been of such a nature as to convince those engaged in the work that there is an amount of suffering constantly experienced in our midst such as those not familiar with the facts would scarcely be willing to admit. The sickness and distress incident to the heated term, particularly among children in the poorer quarters of the City, was positively appalling, as our readers were informed at the time; but we are convinced that the same total of suffering during the warm months is really insignificant when compared with the wretchedness and despair that broods over the homes of thousands during the biting frosts of Winter. To alleviate this misery, and relieve the more pressing wants of the worthy poor, our citizens long ago organized, and have ever since generously sustained, the New York Society for the Relief of the Poor. The methods adopted by this charity for extending aid have been of such a character as to inspire confidence in its able and always influential Board of Managers. But the field of active benevolence is so extensive, and the necessities of the poor of a great city like New-York, so varied, that more than one organization is required to meet the demands that are constantly urged upon the charitably disposed. This fact is so evident that one needs to spend but a few hours in the tenement districts to be convinced of its truth. The saddest sight to one thus engaged is the number of neglected children who throng the sidewalks and alleyways, and by their old and precocious manners manifest their familiarity with vice and sin in its multiform phrases. The need of some particular charity for the moral education, reformation and training of such children is so transparent that argument is wasted in seeking to demonstrate the truth of the proposition. In that well known and widely-esteemed organization, the Children's Aid Society, we have just such a charity as the developments of the past season have taught as is imperatively needed. To educate aid and reform these waifs of the City has been the work of this Society for the past eighteen years. Through their lodging-houses for homeless boys and girls, their industrial schools for the training of the youth of both sexes and their emigration department, the Children's Aid Society have been enabled to achieve results entitling those who have labored in its ranks to the thanks of all friends of law and order and sound public morality.

Besides maintaining these five lodging-houses and twenty industrial day schools, it is proposed by them to open early next month some ten or twelve evening schools designed especially for poor working boys and girls, and for such others as, from their peculiar callings, are precluded from attending other schools. In addition to the extensive sphere of labor enumerated above, the Society keep up a system of visitation among the poor and the destitute in all these school districts, affording such relief as they are competent to give. In view of the many thousands of children and youth who require the ministrations which this Society stands ready to afford, and who, we well know, without such assistance must inevitably drift into the swift currents of criminal life, we cannot too earnestly urge the claims of this and kindred charities upon the early attention of our benevolent citizens, and we cannot but believe, after our recent experience, that through their open-handed liberality their present and prospective wants will be fully supplied.

Literary.

Among the minor poems which will be gathered into the new volume by Dr. Holland, (Scribner, Armstrong & Co.,) will be such familiar and beautiful pieces as "Daniel Gray," "The Heart of the War," "Gradation," &c., which have done duty in the Poets' Corner of the newspapers for many a year. But there will be some interesting short poems in the collection which are little known publicly. Of such are "The Wings," "Returning Clouds," &c. The long poem which gives its title to the volume, "The Marble Prophecy," is one of Dr. Holland's most important poetical works, ranking next after "Bitter-Sweet" and "Kathrina."

Amusements—Announcements for this Evening.

The first of the Rubinstein concerts will take place at Steinway Hall to-night. At the Brooklyn Academy of Music, a Patti-Mario concert may be attended. Mr. and Mrs. Boucicault will appear at Booth's Theatre, in "Arrah na Pogue." Elsewhere the entertainments of the week just closed will be repeated.

To Pay for the Notoriety.

Of the Greeley nomination for Congress in the Thirteenth District, against Hon. John H. Ketcham, the Poughkeepsie Eagle says: "The fact that Mr. J. O. Whitehouse, the President of the 'Liberal' Club of this city, was refused a nomination by the 'Liberal' Convention, and yet nominated by the Democrats, is a very singular one, and does not augur well for his success. Mr. Whitehouse is well known in our city, though we presume the people of the district are not so well acquainted with him. He has resided here for several years, is a gentleman of wealth and enterprise, a large manufacturer, and much too good a man for the sacrifice about to be made of him. He was, doubtless, nominated mainly in the hope that he would contribute largely to the funds of the party during the campaign. Indeed, one of the prominent 'Liberals' on hearing of his nomination openly boasted that they 'would give him a chance to spend some of his money.'"

A Georgia Candidate for Congress.

Of Mr. Andrew M. Sloan, the Republican candidate for Congress in the First District of Georgia, the Savannah News, a Democratic paper, speaks in these complimentary terms: "Entertaining, as we do, a high esteem for the gentleman personally, and recognizing his many amiable qualities, we can only regret that he should thus sacrifice his youth and future prospects in the cause of 'Grantism.' We can however, remark that he is an opponent worthy of the steel of the most chivalrous Knight that the Democratic-Conservative Party can bring into the field. Mr. Sloan has no political record other than his identification with the Administration Party. Socially and morally he is without reproach."

PENNSYLVANIA.

A Hunt for Greeleyites in the Coal Regions.

From Pottsville to Allentown—Soreheads a Scarce Article—The Battle to be a Straight Fight Between the Old Parties.

Searching for a Greeley Republican—None to be Found—The Situation in Schuylkill County—Fusion Between the Republicans and Working Men—Anticipated Reduction in the Democratic Majorities—Greeley Coming.

From Our Own Correspondent.

POTTSVILLE, Schuylkill County, Thursday, Sept. 19, 1872.

The further one travels in search of those white blackbirds, yclept "Greeley Republicans," the more discouraged he gets. I brought a peck of salt with me from Philadelphia to sprinkle on their tails whenever I could get near enough to them, and confidently expected, ere this, to bag a large flock; but to my great disappointment and disgust I haven't caught enough thus far to make a decent pot-pie. The Democrats of Philadelphia and Reading told me I would find lots of them up in the coal regions. Well, here I am, in the very heart of the coal regions, with a population of fifty thousand persons within a radius of three miles, of whom nineteen out of twenty are all besmeared with coal dust, and not a "Liberal" Republican can I find. I was told on my arrival here that I would have to get up early in the morning to find them, and so, for the first time in ten years, I "arose with the lark" and sallied forth with my bag of salt. I first went to the Democratic head-quarters, where I found three Buckalew men reading the Tribune and Forney's Press. Said I, "How goes the campaign?" "Well," said one, whom I took to be the "Head Centre," "it goes pretty fair." "Think you will elect your State ticket?" "Yes, think we shall." "Do you get much aid from the Liberal Republicans?" "Yes, considerable." "The Grant men tell me they are rather scarce in Schuylkill County." "Well, they are not very demonstrative; rather quiet just now, but still there are a good many around." "Good many be ——," blurted out a Democratic bystander, "I would like to see them. No, Sir, (turning to me,) Liberal Republicanism is a myth in this county; you will have to get a lantern to find it."

You can imagine my despair at this piece of information. After rising with the lark to look for a Greeley Republican, it was really disheartening to be told by the first man I met that I had mistaken the hour, and must search for him in the night with a lantern. This is a fair specimen of the difficulty one encounters in getting at the truth with regard to the political situation in Pennsylvania. I never saw so much "honest difference of opinion" in all my born days, or so many men who will purposely deceive a searcher after truth without intentionally lying.

But, so far as Greeley Republicans in Schuylkill County are concerned, it will be noted that there is a striking agreement on the main issue—they are not to be found, either in the morning or at night; by the light of the sun or by the "dim lantern's flickering ray." Ben Bannan, of the Miners' Journal, who knows everybody in Schuylkill County and most people out of it, says that six weeks ago there were just thirty of them in the county, but now he does not know of one. The leader of the gang, who did all the "blowing" for the thirty, died here last week from mania a potu, or, as some think, from Maine a potu. At any rate, the malady was superinduced by the Maine election. His fate was a fearful warning to his associates, and they are all doing penance now preparatory to readmission into the orthodox Republican church. Greeley's name is never mentioned in the streets of Pottsville now except in the way of a joke, the same as one would speak of Joyce Heth or the Fejee Mermaid. If he has any followers in the State, they must be north of the coal regions. I am now told they are up in the counties bordering on "York State." Well, I am going up there next week to see. If I don't find them there. I shall search for them in that gold mine at the foot of the rainbow.

So far as Schuylkill County is concerned—and I am told it is the same in all the other mining counties, Luzerne, Carbon and Lehigh—there are practically only two classes of voters, Grant Republicans and Democrats. But there is to be a kind of three-cornered fight at the State election, which must inevitably help the Republican ticket. It is generally known, although very little has been said about it in the newspapers, that the Labor Reformers have a candidate in the field for Governor, in the person of Wm. P. Schell, of Bedford County. In most of the coal-mining counties, but particularly in Schuylkill County, he will receive the bulk of the vote of the Working Men's Beneficial Association, which is very numerous. As much the larger portion of the members of this Association are Democrats, the result will be to draw so many votes from Buckalew. Strong efforts will be made to induce Schell to withdraw from the field, and I was told by a Democrat in Reading that he positively would withdraw before election day, but they say here that he positively will not; and if he does, many of his Democratic supporters will be so indignant that they will cast their votes for Hartranft in revenge.

In addition to this, there has been a fusion between the Republicans and working men of Schuylkill County on local offices, which has created a very cordial feeling on both sides, and must work to the advantage of the Republican State ticket. The Republicans have indorsed the working mens' candidate for County Judge (Pershing, Dem.) and the working men, in return, have indorsed the Republican candidates for Register, Recorder, Prothonotary and member of Assembly—the latter being an Irishman named Kelly, who has great influence with his countrymen. The result of this combination, and of the running of Schell for Governor, it is generally conceded, will be the reduction of the usual Democratic majority of the county one half. That majority varies from 800 to 1,200. Last year, in the election for Auditor-General, it was nearly 1,400. In the last Gubernatorial election it was just 1,000, and in the Presidential election of 1868 it was 726.

This year it can hardly exceed five hundred on the State ticket in October. Here, then, will be a sure gain for Hartranft of five hundred or six hundred. A similar, though not so large a proportionate gain, may be expected, from like causes, in Luzerne, Carbon and Lehigh Counties. The attacks on Hartranft are having no perceptible effect in the coal regions, and Buckalew has no personal popularity, but rather the reverse, with the Democratic miners and the Working Men's Association. The Republicans here are confident that the entire coal region will do better for their ticket in October than it has done at any State election for years. There is great apathy among the Democratic organizations hereabouts, and the Republicans complain that the campaign is getting dull and stupid for lack of something to fight.

Greeley is to come round through the coal regions on his return trip to the West—so the advertisements say—and it is hoped that his presence will revive the drooping spirits of the coalition. It is a forlorn hope, and he had better stay away. The people here have not forgotten how, contrary to his usual protective policy, he advocated the introduction of foreign coal free. The present arrangement between the miners and their employers is such that the former, equally with the latter, have a personal interest in keeping up high prices. The higher the market price for coal the higher the wages of the miners, and neither party, therefore, wishes coal to come in free of duty.

A Straight-Out Fight Between Democrats and Republicans—Both Parties Equally Confident, but One Has a Reason and the Other Hasn't.

From Our Own Correspondent.

ALLENTOWN, Penn., Saturday, Sept. 21, 1872.

What are called the "coal regions" of Pennsylvania comprise the counties of Schuylkill, Carbon and Luzerne, and parts of Columbia, Dauphin and Northumberland, and have a population of about three hundred thousand. They are all Democratic counties, and always have been, though, notwithstanding the prevalence of coal, they have not that inky blackness of Democracy that exists in Berks County. Having traversed these coal regions pretty thoroughly, with the exception of a portion of Luzerne County, I have become fully convinced of two facts: First, that there are no Greeley Republicans worth mentioning to be found anywhere; and second, that there is no defection among the Regular Republicans on the State ticket. I have yet to find the first Republican in these four counties who will not vote for Hartranft for Governor, while there are some Democrats (not many) among the mining population who will not vote for Buckalew on account of his connection with the Reading Railroad corporation through whose influence he got his nomination. The vote in the coal regions at the State election will be substantially a straight-out fight between the two old parties, Democrat and Republican. The only change will be the very small number of "Liberal" Republicans who will feel bound to vote for Buckalew, in order to show Democrats that they are living up to their part of the bargain, and are willing to "eat crow" in October if the Democrats will eat it in November. But the number who will be compelled to dine off of that savory dish in October, as before stated, is infinitesimally small. In Schuylkill County, as I have already informed you, there were thirty, six weeks ago, but are none now. In Carbon County there is less than half that number. Munck Chunk, the principal town, has five, which is just one in a thousand of the population. Two of these, however, are regarded as "shaky." In Lehigh, the Greeleyites claim three hundred, and the Republicans give them fifty. Most of them live here in Allentown, and they include five lawyers and seven doctors. These were the original "come-outers," and they still "stick," but most of their followers have left them since the Vermont and Maine elections. Allentown has a population of 15,000, and the parties are so nearly divided that the majority seldom exceeds forty on either side. There is consequently a great deal of party vigilance here, and they make an accurate count of noses, and have every man figured down to a dot. Outside of Allentown, however, Democracy predominates in Lehigh County, and usually wins a majority of about 1,600. This majority the Republicans concede to them in October, but no more, although they boast that they will have 2,000. If Buckalew is defeated they admit that their majority in November will not exceed 1,000. In the adjoining county of Northampton, bordering on New-Jersey, the Democratic majority at the last Gubernatorial election was 3,400. This year the Republicans are confident it will not exceed 3,000. In one place, South Bethlehem, there are 200 Democrats employed in the iron-works that are reported as sure for the Republican ticket. To offset these there are about half a dozen "Liberal" Republicans in Bethlehem, and perhaps twice as many more in Easton. But the principal gains that the Republicans anticipate are in the coal-mining counties of Schuylkill, Carbon and Luzerne, arising out of their fusion with the Labor Reformers on local affairs. In Carbon County the fusion is complete, and the Democratic majority, which generally ranges from 425 to 650, will not be over 350 on the State ticket in October. It is believed by everyone that the vote at the October election will be fuller than at any State election for many years past. For the first time in the history of the State it will probably exceed the Presidential vote. If Buckalew is defeated, it certainly will, for then most of the Democrats who are dissatisfied with the nomination of Greeley will stay at home in November, and not vote at all. As for the straight-out ticket nominated at Louisville, I have not heard it mentioned since I have been in Pennsylvania. All the talk and all the effort that is being made here by either party is in behalf of the State election in October, which both parties regard as decisive of the Presidential election, and to succeed in which each party is straining every nerve. Both sides express equal confidence in electing their candidate for Governor, but the supporters of Hartranft have the advantage of knowing for a certainty where his votes are coming from, whereas the increased vote for Buckalew, on which the Democrats base their calculations, is entirely a matter of speculation. In the first place, Hartranft has the usual Republican majority in State elections of six to ten thousand to start with. In addition to this, he will have the solid vote of from twelve to fifteen thousand colored men, who have never hitherto had the opportunity of voting at an election for Governor in this State. In the third place, he is sure of nearly all the soldiers' votes. This was demonstrated at the Pittsburg Convention, where not a dissenting voice was heard when Hartranft's claims to their support were urged, although the Democrats here boasted, previous to the Convention, that if any attempt was made to "force Hartranft down the thoats of the soldiers," half of them would take up their hats and leave the Convention.

To counteract all these known elements of strength for Hartranft, the Democrats have nothing to rely on but the vague impression, or hope rather, that there are an untold number of Greeley Republicans coming over to their side to vote for Buckalew, and that there are other unknown legions of Grant Republicans who believe in Forney's Press, and will refuse to vote for Hartranft. My observations thus far convince me that both these expectations will prove to be delusions.

The Canvass West of the Mountains—Wilson, Hartranft, Scott and Griffin at Erie.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

ERIE, Penn., Sept. 22.—Senator Wilson, Gen. Hartranft, Senator Scott and Gen. Griffin left today at 11 A. M. by the Lake Shore Road to go to Wellsboro, in Tioga County, this State, where there will be a Republican mass-meeting to-morrow. Senator Wilson will go from Wellsboro to Towanda on Tuesday, Scranton on Wednesday, Allentown on Thursday, Lancaster on Friday, and Westchester on Saturday. This will finish his canvass in this State. Next week he leaves for Indiana.

Senator Scott will leave the rest of the party in Towanda, to fulfill several engagements of his own State (Pennsylvania) made prior to the Pittsburg Convention. After the elections in this State he will make a few speeches in New-York.

The meeting addressed by Senator Wilson last night at Girard was very large and very enthusiastic, and when he came back here he appeared much pleased with the reception there given him. The Senator has made sixteen speeches in the last five days.

Senator Schurz is coming into the State next week. The flagging Democratic canvass will present the appearance of a revival for a time, while he is here. He will be in this City next Saturday, and preparations for a "spontaneous" reception have been in progress for two weeks already. He will draw great crowds of men of all parties, who are anxious to hear his $200 speeches, but the Democrats acknowledge that they do not expect much good from his coming, since it is too late in the canvass to effect any changes by speakers of either party. So far as the Republican counties west of the mountains are concerned, the lines are well drawn, and all is ready for the casting of a larger majority in most of them than they gave four years ago. Still efforts to win votes are not relaxed, nor are votes already won to be given up.

Lieut.-Gen. Grant.

New-York World, Dec. 27, 1865.

* * * The Washington Republican opens upon him (Gen. Grant) in a vein as cowardly as it is libelous, and the Tribune of this City makes haste to reprint its article. The ostensible occasion of this indecent assault on Gen. Grant is the bill introduced by Mr. Washburne for creating the rank of General, but as the bill was introduced at the beginning of the session, and the attack delayed until after Gen. Grant's late report, nobody can be at a loss in assigning the motive. * * *

Those who assert that Gen. Grant has been sufficiently rewarded, and that if he would accept anything further he has more than "the grasping ambition of Cæsar," misappreciate his services. The genius of our institutions does not permit us to copy the example of foreign countries, and manifest the public gratitude by titles of nobility and princely gifts. Besides titles, the English Government bestowed upon Marlborough the following substantial proofs of gratitude: Woodstock, £40,000; Blenheim, £200,000; Post-office Grant, £100,000; Middenheim, £30,000; pictures, jewels, &c., £60,000; Pall Mall Grant, &c., £10,000; employments, £100,000. Equal to nearly $3,000,000 of our money.

The Duke of Wellington also received gifts amounting to £600,000, or $3,000,000.

We have no orders of nobility, no select inner circle like the Order of the Garter; nor can we make large grants of money, like those bestowed on illustrious Generals in other countries. It has accordingly been the habit of our people to try to acquit themselves toward admired military men by elevating them to the Presidency. The public gratitude to Washington, to Jackson, to Taylor, was expressed in this way; and an attempt was made to confer the same honor upon Scott. This sense of justice has given us some of our best Presidents.

NOTES TO THE EDITOR.

The Georgia Kuklux.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Mr. Greeley's friends have gone to work vigorously in Georgia. The Kuklux of Wilkinson County, or a Klan of them numbering seventy-five, I learn, took a number of colored men from their homes on last Monday night, the 16th inst., and beat them most brutally, and one white man in sympathy with Republicans is, I learn, missing, and thought murdered.

The only cause assigned for the outrage is that the Republicans of that county proposed to hold a public meeting at Gordon today. I think Greeley will get all the votes in that county through the aid of the Kuklux.

MACON, Ga., Wednesday, Sept. 18, 1872.

See How They Lie.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

The following report appeared in the Tribune day before yesterday:

"The Liberal Republicans and Democrats of Hudson County held no less than three rousing mass-meetings on the Heights last night. Every ward club turned out in its strength, and the enthusiasm manifested for the Liberal candidates had an intensity seldom experienced at campaign gatherings. The largest and best attended meeting was at Kuntz's German Hotel, at Palisade-avenue and DeMotte-street, near Weehawken. Although the meeting had only been announced during the day, fully 500 persons were present. The hotel, a large edifice, was gaily decorated with flags of three nationalities. Chauncey Burr, who had been a delegate to Louisville, made an address in favor of Greeley and Brown."

Now, the simple facts about this meeting are, that this township was thoroughly "done" by by circulars left at every house for three days. The call was for "the formation of a Greeley and Brown Club." At the meeting forty-one persons, and no more, were present, including one or two who are not residents of this place, and several who are not voters. "Kuntz's German Hotel," which figures as a "large edifice," is a very respectable one story lager-beer saloon, having a public room, which would be crowded to its utmost capacity by 125 persons. Of course the Tribune's report that Chauncey Burr was present at this mortifying "fizzle" is as false as all the rest of the report. A meeting of forty-one disconsolate individuals is magnified into a tremendous demonstration of 500! And that appears to be the way in which the imagination of the "Democratic-Radicals" are electing Mr. Greeley. This meeting of forty-one, or of 500 less 459, was the third abortive attempt which has been made to form a Greeley and Brown Club in this township.

Greeley in the West.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Having noticed in one of the daily papers a communication from a commercial traveler having returned from an extensive business tour, in which he states the voice of the people with one accord are for Horace Greeley, I, myself, have also returned from a Western trip. With all due respect for the opinion of the aforesaid gentleman, I have not even seen a particle of that bursting enthusiasm which he lays before the public, but on the contrary, a more deplorable, demented and disgusted party today is not to be found anywhere than the Democratic Party of the West. Do you wonder at it? The Western Democrats want to know who nominated Horace Greeley? A lot of New-York thieves, blacklegs and scallawags of the worst description. Yet they try to trump him on the people as honest Horace Greeley. Can facts speak for themselves, or can any man who has a single thought of his own, whether he be Liberal Republican or Democrat, vote for Greeley, a man whose whole life has been spent in villifying that party, who has been the strongest opposer of free trade ever known in any country, and now advanced at an age when he is a fit specimen and strong proof of the adage, "once a man and twice a child?" Put Horace Greeley to-morrow in the White House, can you picture me the result? Our foreign relations today are better than was ever known. Our home trade and manufacturing interests are sound and healthy. Will you change those and run the country knee deep in blood from Maine to California? Who are the men at present most bitter against the present Administration, and to outward and visible appearance so loyal to the interests of their country? Disappointed cormorants. No man can do anything unless he has a motive. It would be useless for me to comment on the motives of Greeley's worshippers.

G. F. M., Commercial Traveler.

Characters of Servants.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Like many other readers of your journal, I fully appreciate your efforts to alleviate the distresses of American housekeepers. Many thanks to you. I, too, have a word to say on the subject, and hope you will allow me to place it before the public. There is an up-town "Intelligence Office" in which it is a regulation to find employment for no domestic who cannot be vouched for by her employer with satisfactory answers to a list of printed questions relative to her honesty, neatness, sobriety and skillfulness as cook, laundress, waitress, or aught else that may be her occupation. Now, I would propose that the ladies of New-York unite and agree upon some such printed form of questions, to be truthfully filled in with answers by the ladies, and given to such domestics as leave them, and also agree to take into their service no domestic who cannot procure a satisfactory reference from her last employer in such form. Possibly, by this means, the ladies may come to understand that they are liable to legal prosecution by any one who is injured, relying upon a false character thus given by them to a domestic.

If those who influence public opinion through the Press would speak out boldly on this subject, regardless of the effect of what they may say upon the German, Irish, or negro vote, I venture to think that we should have a reform. It is idle to mince this matter. Something must be done, and that soon, or private house-keeping must be abandoned, and the cooks and laundresses, who now rule our hearths, permitted to return to their native country and cultivate potatoes and sleep in their homestead mud-cabins, or perhaps migrate to the far West where they can pursue agriculture with the "modern improvements."

CLIMAX.

NEW-YORK, Friday, Sept. 20, 1872.

Kernan as a Patriot.

The following communication appeared in the Utica Herald, of Oct. 5, 1864. So far as we can learn its statements were never denied. It shows that in the midst of the rebellion Kernan lost faith in the Union, and wanted to dispose of the Government securities at any price:

A SAMPLE OF KERNAN PATRIOTISM.

To the Editor of the Utica Morning Herald:

I propose to relate some facts which show how the representative of Oneida in Congress has supported the Government. During the last Winter, the honorable gentleman was a director in the Savings Bank of Utica. This institution had a large amount invested in Government stocks—about a half million of dollars. Its charter prescribes three specific ways in which its deposits shall be invested: 1. In national securities. 2. In State stocks. 3. In bonds and mortgages. Also a sum not exceeding $5,000 may be invested on personal security. The last limited investment was made. Bonds and mortgages could not be obtained after the war was somewhat advanced. State stocks were at too high a premium to make an investment in them profitable. The idle deposits were, therefore, invested in national stocks—the very kind of security which commands the preference in the charter of the bank. Upon these national bonds the interest was paid regularly in coin, making a most remunerative investment.

In the last Winter Mr. Kernan came home during the session of Congress, neglecting his duties in that body. He professed to have special knowledge of the "situation" and predicted the failure of the war and downfall of the Government and the repudiation of the national debt. He counseled the Treasurer of the bank to sell out their national stocks for such prices as he could obtain, although it was clear that no other available security would pay an equal high rate of interest. The Treasurer declined to pursue the course thus recommended. Mr. Kernan was persistent. He procured a meeting of the Board of Directors. Through his instrumentality a resolution was introduced at this meeting expressive of the opinions of Mr. Kernan, and directing the Treasurer to pursue the course Mr. Kernan had advised.

This resolution was ventilated at the meeting by Judge Bacon, another Director, and rejected, receiving only three votes, one of the three being cast by the patriotic representative of this Congressional District. Baffled in his purpose, Mr. Kernan declared that he could not consent to remain a Director of an institution in which his countrymen were depositors and whose funds were invested in the stocks issued by the Government of his country, and consequently resigned. The stocks were not sold, but the Government pays the interest; the bonds have increased in value more than $50,000 since Mr. Kernan recommended their immediate sale. Shameful as the record of the gentleman in Congress is, its shame is bright beside that of this action.

UNCLE SAM.

Democratic Disgust.

The nomination of Senator Sumner for Governor of Massachusetts by the Democrats of that State draws from the Lexington (Ky.) Press, now a supporter of Greeley, such language as this: "It is useless to disguise the fact that there are thousands of Democrats who support Mr. Greeley, not because he is acceptable, but because he is the only chance whereby the defeat of Gen. Grant can be effected. But for the Democracy to indorse every Republican malcontent who may announce himself opposed to the Administration, savors too much of unconditional surrender, involves too much of political stultification, to be acceptable to the great masses of the party who are not yet ready to abandon the principles they have so long and so devotedly maintained."

WASHINGTON.

Fines for Non-Payment of Postage—Republican Prospects in Pennsylvania—Decrease in the Registration of the District.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—A recent decision of the Post-office Department that the unpaid postage on all matter on which prepayment is required should be doubled and collected on delivery has led to some complaint on the part of business-men in New-York. They maintain that the decision is erroneous and have endeavored to induce the Postmaster General to revise it, but Mr. Creswell is firmly of the opinion that he has given the proper construction to the law and refuses to accede to their request. The opposite interpretation of the statute would, he maintains, entail a heavy loss upon the Government, and render cheap postage an impossibility. In answer to the argument that the law provides that double rates shall be charged only upon matter upon which no postage has been paid, it is sufficient to say that the law specially directs that unpaid matter shall not be forwarded at all. It is probable that a test case will be made in the Courts.

PENNSYLVANIA PROSPECTS.

Commissioner Douglass, who today returned from Erie, Penn., where he has been for some weeks on account of his health, reports that the October prospects in that State are exceedingly bright, and that no one of the Republican leaders has the least doubt that the entire State ticket will be elected, and that our majority in November will be at least double what we shall obtain on the 8th proximo.

REGISTRATION IN THE DISTRICT.

The registration in this District has just been completed. The total number registered amounts to 12,139, the white voters having a majority of about 2,000. The total registration last year was over nineteen thousand, showing a decrease of about 7,000. The falling off of the whites is 4,000, and of the colored people 2,000, in round numbers. The figures indicate that Gen. Chipman, the Republican candidate for Delegate to Congress, will be easily elected.

THE VIENNA EXPOSITION.

Mr. Thomas B. Van Buren, United States Commissioner to the International Exposition at Vienna in 1873, has nominated the following gentlemen to the State Department for confirmation as Assistant Commissioners, viz.: Wm. M. T. Round, of Boston; Lewis Seasongood, of Cincinnati; J. C. Bolter, of New-York, now at Vienna; G. H. Blodgett, of Burlington, Vt.; H. Garetson, of Cleveland; Robert Sarjeant, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Edward Gotthiel, of New-Orleans, and E. A. Steasy, of New-York.

Total value of production, $155,405,058.

MAUNA LOA.

Brief Description of the Recent Eruption—An Unusually Magnificent Display—Earthquake Shocks in the Island.

The Honolulu (Sandwich Islands) Gazette, of Aug. 21, supplies the following:

On the evening of the 13th inst. the people of Hilo and other portions of Hawaii were startled by the sudden appearance of an eruption at the summit of Mauna Loa, the locality of the volcano of Mokuaweoweo. At first, in Hilo, so intense was the light of the eruption, that before the exact cause was discovered, the inhabitants were alarmed that a fire had occurred in town. The following extract of a letter from Rev. Mr. Coan gives a description of the first appearance of the eruption:

"All Hilo was startled last evening by the cry of fire. Looking to the summit of Mauna Loa we saw a gorgeous pillar of red light standing upon the top of the mountain and illuminating those heights. It is a grand eruption, but, from our point of observation, we could see no evidence of a flow. We conclude that it is in the great crater of Mokuaweoweo. It is cloudy today, and the mountain is vailed. When we can get a view in the daytime we shall be able to be able to determine its locality. I regret much that Prof. Kneeland and party could not have seen this pyrotechnic revel of Mme. Pele. But the old goddess is quite capricious and utterly independent of us all."

Capt. McGregor of the Kilauea, informs us that upon the passage to Kona last week he saw the light of the eruption at night in the channel between Maui and Hawaii, though through the mist which hung over the mountain it looked more like like a fiery red star than a volcanic eruption. Upon reaching the coast of Hawaii, however, he found that there must be a grand commotion in the crater of Mokuaweweoweo as the top of the mountain presented a magnificent illumination, a column, apparently of lava, being constantly visible above the mouth of the crater. Some severe shocks of earthquake, we have been informed, have been felt in Kona, Kau and Hilo recently. It is not at all certain that this eruption in the summit of Mauna Loa is the percurser of a lava flow from the sides of that mountain. We are informed by those who have taken great pains to inform themselves upon the subject, that similar eruptions have taken place frequently, and after continuing for a time have subsided. It is possible, however, the accumulation of lava in the crater of Mokuaweowo may be so great as to force its way through some weak point in the mountain side.

The Gazette, in its issue for Aug. 28, gives some additional particulars, saying: "Our latest advices from Hawaii inform us that the eruption still continues in Mokuaweowoe at the summit of Mauna Loa. A column of fire or lava is constantly being thrown up several hundred feet above the summit of the crater, presenting, in the night, a most imposing spectacle. The people living around the base of Mauna Loa are in momentary expectation of a lava flow from the sides of the mountain. When it is considered that the floor of the crater is something like 500 feet below the rim, and that the column of lava is estimated to be thrown something like 200 feet above the rim, it must be thrown up at least 700 feet. The column must also be immense, as it can be seen distinctly from all sides of the mountain, which, in the night, it lights up in grand style. The eruption reached its grandest dimensions about eight days before our informant left the coast of Hawaii, since which time the column of fire had not perceptibly diminished."

Attempted Assassination of a Republican in Louisiana.

From the New-Orleans National Republican, Sept. 19.

After the adjournment of the large Republican meeting held at Minden yesterday, an intoxicated bravo, named T. L. Boone, attacked and seriously wounded Hon. Jasper Blackburn, the well-known editor of the Homer Iliad. Mr. Blackburn was shot in the neck, but happily the wound, which is severe and painful, is not believed to be mortal.

Sudden Death of an Actress.

From the Chicago Evening Journal, Sept. 20.

Last night, shortly before 11 o'clock, Mrs. T. J. Landon, an actress widely and favorably known in her profession, died suddenly at her boarding-house, No. 75 North Peoria-street, in this city. The cause of her death is supposed to be heart disease. Yesterday she was cheerful in the extreme and apparently in the enjoyment of excellent health. Shortly before 11 o'clock the landlady heard a noise, as of something heavy falling in Mrs. Landon's sleeping apartment. Hastening to the room and opening the door, she was shocked at finding the lady lying on the floor dead. In the bed lay a young lady and Mrs. Landon's only little child, fast asleep, and both unconscious of the death of their friend and mother. This morning Coroner Stephens was notified to hold an inquest on the remains of the deceased lady.

Mrs. Landon's last engagement was with the McKee Rankin and Mrs. Oates Combination Company, in St. Paul, Minneapolis and that vicinity. She recently made a starring trip through the North-west under the management of her husband, an actor now playing at Pike's Opera-house, Cincinnati. She was about twenty-five years of age. She had been in the city two weeks, and was daily expecting her husband, who had, it is stated, engaged to appear on Monday next at the Academy of Music in this city.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.

At the Exchange on Saturday last, Sept. 21, no business was transacted, the legal sale announced, of property on Twenty-second-street, near Ninth-avenue, being adjourned by James M. Miller, the auctioneer, until Saturday of this week. The suburban sale, conducted by Jere. Johnson, Jr., at Queens, Long Island, on Friday, Sept. 20, postponed from the day before, owing to the storm, was, considering this fact, well attended, and a fair success was met with, in all 176 lots being disposed of, for $16,875 in the aggregate, the buyers being nearly all from this City and Brooklyn. Full details are appended. The sale will be continued Oct. 3.

LAST WEEK'S BUSINESS.

The market last week, ending with Saturday, Sept. 21, gave evidence of a greater activity, and although all the public sales consummated were of a legal character, considerable City realty was disposed of, the value of property sold at the Exchange, amounting to $108,600 as against the sum of $29,050, the figures for the previous week ending with Saturday, Sept. 14. The only suburban auction of the week was that above noted, while the value of suburban real estate reported sold the week before was $76,200. In the matter of private sales several of interest have been noted during the past six business days, and business in this line is daily improving. It is not probable, however, that the transactions of either a public or private nature will assume any great importance until after Oct. 1. In regard to the prospects of the market we should be glad to make some further remark, but want of space at this time precludes.

THIS WEEK'S PROPOSED BUSINESS.

For the present week the following auctions were projected, at which the real estate noted will be offered:

To-day, Monday, Sept. 23.

By E. H. Ludlow & Co., at the Exchange, at a Supreme Court sale, Chas. M. Hildreth, Esq., referee, four lots on West One Hundred and Twenty-second-street, south side, 100 feet west of Tenth-avenue, together forming a plot in size 100 by 90.11.

By A. J. Bleecker, Son & Co., at the Exchange, at a Supreme Court sale, Levi A. Fuller, Esq., referee, two four-story brick stores and tenements and lots, on Third-avenue, east side, 88.6 feet south of One Hundred and Eighth-street; lots in size, each 17.8 by 100; buildings each 50 feet deep.

By Joseph McGuire, at the Exchange, at a Supreme Court sale, W. W. Goodrich, Esq., referee, a house and lot on Fifth-avenue, east side, 27.5 feet south of Sixty-third-street; lot in size, 23 by 100.

By Silas D. Gifford, Esq., referee, at Carpenter's Hotel, Morrisania, Westchester County, at 10 o'clock, under a Supreme Court foreclosure order, a property located at Fordham, in the county named, embracing a plot of land 200 by 360, fronting on Valentine-avenue and Clark-street, with a two and a half story dwelling and other buildings thereon. The plot contains about twenty-eight city lots.

To-morrow, Tuesday, Sept. 24.

By V. K. Stevenson, Son & Co., at the Exchange, at public auction, a well-finished three-story high-stoop brown stone-front house and lot, situate on West Seventy-first-street, west side, between Ninth-avenue and the Grand Boulevard, the house being the third west of the avenue; lot in size, 20 by 102.2.

By A. J. Bleecker, Son & Co., at the Exchange, at a Supreme Court sale, John J. Thomasson, Esq., referee, the five-story brick tenement-house (with two stores) and lot No. 341 East Twenty-seventh-street, north side, 172.6 feet west of First-avenue; lot in size, 27.6 feet by one-half the block.

By E. H. Ludlow & Co., at the Exchange, at a Supreme Court sale, John M. Glover, Esq., referee, four lots on West Fifty-seventh-street, north side, 375 feet west of Tenth-avenue, together forming a plot in size 100 by 100 5 feet.

By James M. Miller, at the Exchange, at a Supreme Court sale, Richard C. Beamish, Esq., referee, the valuable plot of ground on the north-west corner of Fourth-avenue and One Hundred and Twentieth-street, having a front on the avenue of 51.10 feet, and on the street of 145 feet.

By William Kennelly, at the Exchange, at a legal sale, four lots, with improvements, on East Sixteenth-street, south side, 238 feet west of Avenue C; lots together in size 100 by 103.3.

By M. T. Brennan, Sheriff, at the City Hall, at a Sheriff's sale, the right, title and interest of John Cotter in and to a property on East One Hundred and Eleventh-street, south side, 120 feet west of Second-avenue; lot in size 20 by 100.11.

By Jere. Johnson, Jr., at Whitestone, Long Island, on the ground, at 12½ P. M., at public auction, 400 choice and well-located building lots, situate respectively on Seventh and Eighth avenues, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Seventh streets, 750 yards distant from the railway depot, forming a portion of the well-known property of Augustus F. Weekes, Esq. This is the fifth sale held at Whitestone by Mr. Johnson during the present season, and as all the others have been characterized by a marked success, there is little doubt but that this one will be attended with equally favorable results, as the lots are in all respects equal to any heretofore sold. Whitestone is distant from Hunter's Point, by rail, only from twenty-six to thirty minutes, and connected therewith by forty-one trains daily, running from 5:50 A. M. to 12½ at midnight. Three steam-boats each way, also, daily connect with the City, the sail being but one hour in duration. The place is healthy, and, growing as it is in population and wealth, presents yearly increased inducements as a suburban residence. As an investment, the purchaser can in any event feel secure, and the terms of sale being liberal, the auction to-morrow should be well attended, and the result a success. For the convenience of buyers and others, a special train will leave Hunter's Point for the sale, via James-slip or Thirty-fourth-street Ferries, at 11 o'clock, for which free tickets can be obtained of the auctioneer at his office, No. 25 Nassau-street, or at the office of Geo. W. Van Siclen, Esq., attorney, No. 133 Nassau-street.

By Lewis E. Wood, at Jersey City, N. J., on the property, at 1½ P. M., by order of executors, 139 desirable lots belonging to the estate of N. C. Slaight, deceased, located in the Sixteenth Ward of Jersey City, situate respectively on Eighth-street and on Clendenny, Lexington, Oxford and Mallory avenues, within three minutes' walk of the Newark and New-York Railroad Depot, and seventeen minutes distant from the foot of Liberty-street, in this City. This proposed sale, like the above, is an important one, and well worthy the attention of capitalists generally. Excursion train from foot of Liberty-street, via ferry, at 1 o'clock. Tickets furnished on application by J. P. Case, at No. 162 Broadway, or by auctioneer, at his office, No. 69 Montgomery-street, Jersey City.

Wednesday, Sept. 25.

By James M. Miller, at the Exchange, at a Supreme Court sale, Geo. A. Brandreth, Esq., referee, the two three-story high-stoop brick houses and lots, Nos. 23 and 27 East Twentieth-street, north side, between Broadway and Fourth-avenue; lots in size, No. 23, 20 by 74; No. 27, 23 by 74. Also, an undivided half interest in thirteen gore lots, (without fronts,) lying in the centre of the block bounded by Sixth and Seventh avenues, Fifty-second and Fifty-third streets, together forming a triangular plot in size 375 by 88 by 368.

By E. H. Ludlow & Co., at the Exchange, at a Supreme Court sale, George P. Smith, Esq., referee, the house and lot No. 705 (old No. 606) Fourth-street, north side, between Lewis-street and Avenue D, 75 feet west of Lewis-street, lot irregular, having a front of 18 feet and a depth of about 72 feet. Also, at another Supreme Court sale, Charles E. Crowell, Esq., referee, the store and lot No. 66 (old No. 68) Front-street, lot 20.6 by 92.6.

By A. J. Bleecker, Son & Co., at the Exchange, at a Supreme Court sale, T. Hennessey, Esq., referee, two lots on East One Hundred and Fifteenth-street, north side, 250 feet east of Second-avenue, together forming plot in size 50 by 100.11.

By E. A. Lawrence, at the Exchange, at a Supreme Court sale, Rufus F. Andrews, Esq., referee, the house and lot No. 45 East Twenty-second-street, north side, 100 feet west of Fourth-avenue; lot 25 by 98.9.

By Wm. Kennelly, at the Exchange, at a Sheriff's sale, a house and lot on Great Jones-street, between Broadway and the Bowery; lot 27 by 90.

By Winans, Sands & Garrettson, at Maywood, N. J., formerly West Hackensack, on the premises, at 12 M., at public auction, 700 valuable lots, together with a desirable dwelling and grounds, the whole forming as attractive a suburban sale as any projected during the year. Maywood adjoins the west line of the town of Hackensack, only fourteen and a half miles from the City of New-York and fifty minutes from the foot of Courtlandt-street by two lines of steam railroads, (Midland of New-Jersey and Erie Railroad—"Hackensack Branch;") within three minutes' walk of the Midland and ten minutes of the Erie Depot. The sale is made by order of John A. Lydecker, Esq., the owner of the property, and its lots are laid out in plots, in size each 50 by 150, fronting respectively on Essex, Meadow, First, Second and Third streets, Maywood and Clinton avenues; streets already opened and graded. This is one of the first public sales projected in this section of New-Jersey, a part of the State which, owing to its accessibility to this City, is certain ere long to be brought prominently to the notice of capitalists in the usual rapid rise in the value of building sites. An investment, therefore, at this time will fully repay the invester, as the terms of sale are extremely moderate. Special train for auction, by Midland Road, from foot of Cortlandt and Desbrosses streets, at 10 o'clock. Free tickets and maps of property at office of auctioneers, No. 55 Liberty-street.

By Jere. Johnson, Jr., at Bayonne City, N. J., (Bergen Point,) on the ground, at 12 M., at public auction, 100 desirable lots, situate on Chestnut, A and B avenues, together with ten water fronts on Newark Bay, an attractive proposed sale, and one which deserves success. The lots are all extra size, and on a good grade; sixty-three railway trains per day connect Bayonne with New-York, and as a place of residence, the suburbs being but thirty minutes from Wall-street, the advantages are too well known to need a more extended reference. Special train for the sale by New-Jersey Central Railway, via Liberty-street Ferry, at 11 o'clock. Tickets at No. 25 Nassau-street, or to be obtained of J. M. Gibson, No. 27 Montgomery-street, Jersey City, N. J., real estate auctioneer, by whom Mr. Johnson will be assisted at this auction.

Thursday, Sept. 26.

By R. R. Hazard, Jr., John H. Austen, auctioneer, at the Exchange, at a Supreme Court sale, Gratz Nathan, Esq., referee, the four-story and basement brick house and lot, No. 18 West Fourteenth-street, south side, about 270 feet west of Fifth-avenue; lot 25 by 103.3, house 90 feet deep.

Friday, Sept. 27.

By James M. Miller, at the Exchange, at a Supreme Court sale, Wm. M. Howland, Esq., referee, a house and lot on First-avenue, east side, 77 feet north of One Hundred and Twentieth-street; lot 25 by 100.

By Joseph McGuire, at the Exchange, at a Supreme Court sale, James H. Coleman, Esq., referee, a house and lot on West Thirty-fourth-street, north side, 41.8 feet east of Tenth-avenue; lot 20.10 by 47.1

Saturday, Sept. 28.

By James M. Miller, at the Exchange, at a Supreme Court sale, Chas. H. Phelps, Esq., referee, three houses and lots on West Forty-third-street, north side, and three houses and lots on West Forty-fourth-street, south side, 325 feet west of Tenth-avenue, the lots together forming a plot in size 75 by 200.10. Also, at another Supreme Court sale, W. M. Howland, Esq., referee, the building and lot No. 199 Church-street, near Walker-street; lot, 21.2 by 75. Also, at another similar sale, Lyman W. Bates, Esq., referee, a house and lot on West Twenty-second-street, south side, 85 8 feet west of Ninth-avenue; lot, 14 3 by 72.

By Joseph McGuire, at the Exchange, at a Supreme Court sale, Chas. C. Bigelow, Esq., referee, the house and lot No. 321 West Eleventh-street, (formerly Hammond-street,) north side, 85.2 feet west of Greenwich-street, lot 32 by 95.

NOTICE.

SALE OF TIMBER BERTHS.

DEPARTMENT OF CROWN LANDS,
TORONTO, Aug. 1, 1872.

A sale, by public auction, of timber berths, on the north shore of Lake Huron, and north of French River, will be held at the Department of Crown Lands, Toronto, at 12 noon, on TUESDAY, the 15th day of October next. The berths to be offered for sale are projected townships, estimated at an area each of thirty-six square miles where the outlines are regular; each township to be put up as one berth and sold as such, and to be adjudged to the person bidding the highest amount of bonus per square mile therefor; payment for the same to be made on the day of sale, by depositing the amount of purchase to the credit of the Department of Crown Lands, in a bank authorized to receive deposits on account of the Government of Ontario.

All berths sold to be subject to correction with respect to area, under the first clause of the Crown Timber Regulations.

Licenses for Berths sold will be issued subject to the "Crown Timber Regulations" one month after date of sale, and payment of bonus and ground-rent for current season.

No deduction, from area sold, allowed for water.

The Department reserves the right to one bid on each Berth; and also the right to grant special licenses to cut fuel on the Berths sold, for the supply of coasting steamers.

A map showing the Berths to be disposed of may be seen at the Woods and Forests' Office Department Crown Lands on and after the 15th inst.

R. W. SCOTT, Commissioner.

NOTE.—The area to be offered as Timber Berths is very extensive, embracing all unsold and unlicensed lands of the Crown north of Lake Huron and north of French River, and west of the Indian Reserve on Lake Nipissing, to the eastern boundary of the townships of Aweres and Vancoughnet, extending north from the Indian Reserve, on Lake Nipissing, an estimated distance of twenty-four miles, thence due west to the north-east angle of the township of Vancoughnet.

Maps of the Territory are for sale by Messrs. Copp, Clark & Co., No. 17 King-st. East, Toronto

TWENTY PER CENT. INVESTMENT.

THE AMERICAN BRIDGE CO.,
OF CHICAGO, ILL.,
L. B. BOOMER, of Chicago, President.
(ORGANIZED AUG. 1, 1870.)
AUTHORIZED CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000.

The Subscription Books will Positively Close Oct. 1, 1872.

The whole amount of the authorized Capital Stock of this Company not having been issued, the balance will be issued to subscribers at par, payment for same to be made in four installments of 25 per cent. each, viz.:

Twenty-five per cent. July 15, 25 per cent. Aug. 1, 25 per cent. Sept. 1, and 25 per cent. Oct. 1, 1872. Past due installments to be paid with interest at the time of subscription.

Books now open at the office of the undersigned will be positively closed at 3 P. M., Oct. 1, 1872.

The total amount of full-paid stock issued at this time is $414,700, and on this basis the Company shows a present surplus of $136,280 97, and is now doing a flourishing business. Over 1,000 men are almost constantly employed in their extensive works, and they now have on hand $2,500,000 of work for various railroads in the United States, (among which may be mentioned the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, Chicago and North-western, Missouri, Kansas and Texas, Michigan Central, Missouri Pacific, &c., &c.,) and the net profit on this work alone will be over $400,000. The Company is now offered work to the amount of more than $6,000,000, including some of the largest bridges ever built in this country; to accept of which and further business necessitates a larger working capital, as immense amounts of material have to be kept constantly on hand, and the Company are frequently obliged to receive in part payment for their work railroad and other bonds, which are perfectly good securities, but not always immediately marketable.

The THIRTY ACRES of land in Chicago belonging to the Company, and on which their extensive machine and other shops are situated, is now worth nearly $300,000, and prominent real estate dealers say it will be worth, in six years, at least $1,000,000—an amount equal to the whole proposed capital.

The career of the AMERICAN BRIDGE COMPANY, though brief, has already fully demonstrated the profitableness of the enterprise. The Company has constructed since its organization, and up to the 31st of December, 1871, a total of 38,137 feet of bridges, 18 turning-tables and 16 iron roofs, and pneumatic and screw pile substructures, costing $3,400,000, and have facilities for the construction of pneumatic piles unsurpassed by any Company in the country, and a capacity for the construction of at least 150 feet of bridges for every working day in the year.

The iron railroad and highway bridge at Leavenworth, of three spans of 340 feet each, and the Union Pacific Bridge across the Missouri River, of eleven spans of 250 feet each, were constructed by this Company.

The net profit arising from this business, as shown by the books of the Company, up to the 31st of March, 1872, was the sum of $373,482 14, or at the rate of $224,089 28 per annum, being over 50 per cent. upon the capital stock then outstanding. With the proposed new structures, machinery, &c., the Company will have much greater capacity, and the proceeds of the increased issue of stock will enable them to buy material for cash, thereby making a saving of from $50,000 to $75,000 per year.

The Company can undoubtedly, on above basis, make dividends of from 20 to 25 per cent. per annum on the full amount of capital, $1,000,000, with a fair prospect of a considerable increase.

The undersigned are prepared to give to those inquiring the fullest details and entire satisfaction regarding the reliability of the Company's statements, and the unquestioned integrity and ability of its officers.

We confidently commend to capitalists the above as an investment worthy their attention.

GUARANTEED BONDS On a Completed Road.

THE CINCINNATI, RICHMOND, AND
Fort Wayne Railroad Co.'s
FIRST MORTGAGE
7 Per Cent. Gold Bonds,

HAVING 50 YEARS TO RUN, PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN UNITED STATES GOLD COIN, "not inferior to the present standard." Interest payable semi-annually in New-York, on the 1st day of June and December, and guaranteed jointly and severally by

The Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railroad Company,
The Pennsylvania Company, and
The Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad Company.

The road is entirely completed and in operation, and extends from Fort Wayne, Indiana, to Richmond, 90 miles in the State of Indiana, and connects the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne, and Chicago Railway, the Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad, and the whole system of roads under the control of the Pennsylvania Company in Indiana and Michigan, with the Cincinnati, Hamilton, and Dayton Railroad to Cincinnati and Southern Ohio and Indiana. The road is leased for 99 years to the Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad Company, and operated by it for the joint account of the guarantors, and by a contract entered into between the Grand Rapids and Indiana Railroad Company, the Pennsylvania Company, lessees of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne, and Chicago Railway, and the Cincinnati, Hamilton, and Dayton Railroad Company, for reciprocal interchange of business; all these Companies agree to throw all their freight and passenger traffic which may be appropriately done over this road, thus insuring it, from the outset, a large volume of business. The holders of these Bonds are thus trebly secured:

First—By a first mortgage on a finished road now in full operation.

Secondly—By a contract for interchange of business with three prosperous and powerful corporations, controlling in its favor a vast amount of business.

Thirdly—By the direct and absolute guarantee of the interest, jointly and severally, by ENDORSEMENT ON THE BONDS by the above-mentioned three Companies.

The whole issue of the Bonds is $1,800,000, or $20,000 per mile, and but a limited amount are now offered to investors. Price, 92 1-2 and Interest. Circulars and information furnished by

EXTENSION RAILWAY
First Mortgage 7 Per Cent. Convertible
GOLD BONDS,
AT 90 AND INTEREST,

Issued by the Indianapolis, Bloomington and Western Railway to aid in building its EXTENSION line West, in a direct line from Champaign (185 miles) to the Mississippi River at Keokuk, and a branch from White Heath (32 miles) to Decatur, all in the State of Illinois. The bonds are secured by a first and only mortgage on the EXTENSION, now being rapidly constructed in the most thorough manner by able and experienced contractors who represent a capital of several millions of dollars, which insures the last rail being laid at an early date. About 60 miles are already finished and 110 miles graded; the whole line, 217 miles, will be completed early in 1873. We have been connected and entirely familiar with the I., B. & W. Railway from its early organization. It was completed in the Autumn of 1870, and has developed rapidly into a SUCCESSFUL AND WEALTHY CORPORATION, having a large revenue from its largely increasing business. With the EXTENSION it will be one corporation, with 420 miles of road, located in a commanding position in the heart of the best portion of the country. The counties on the line of the EXTENSION in 1870 had a population of 242,330; valuation of real and personal estate, $181,000,000; bushels of grain raised, 27,000,000; value of farm products, $25,570,000, and live stock, $18,349,000; to which may safely be added 15 per cent. to represent the present population and value. THE COUNTIES ON THE OLD LINE AND THE EXTENSION TOGETHER CONTAIN A POPULATION OF NEARLY THREE-QUARTERS OF A MILLION, AND A PROPERTY VALUATION EXCEEDING $400,000,000.

From these statistics it will be readily seen that the EXTENSION will have a Local Business that will make it a complete success. In addition to this it will have the entire Through Traffic of the Missouri, Iowa, and Nebraska Road, connecting with it on the Mississippi River, and extending West to the Missouri, 300 miles, where it connects with the Midland Pacific in Nebraska. These two corporations, and also the Peoria and Rock Island (91 miles,) and the Davenport and St. Paul (300 miles,) although separate corporations, ARE CONTROLLED IN THE INTEREST OF THE INDIANAPOLIS, BLOOMINGTON AND WESTERN RAILWAY, and, practically, will be a united line of more than 1,200 miles, the through business of which will pass over the I., B. & W. This is an East and West trunk route and has no parallel competing line. The Eastern connections at Indianapolis are the Pennsylvania Central, Baltimore and Ohio, Bellefontaine, Lake Shore, and New-York Central, and other roads centering at this point. From the Sea-board to the West and North-west distances are materially reduced via this system of roads; so much so that it cannot fail to be the popular line for travel and business. Liberal subscriptions to the stock were made by towns and counties on the line of the EXTENSION, and the remainder has been taken by experienced railroad men and Eastern capitalists.

These facts cannot fail to make the bonds, which will be issued only on completed road, take high rank among the best railway securities.

The bonds are $1,000 each, convertible into stock at par, at the option of the holder, and may be registered free of charge.

Coupons, payable January and July 1, free of tax. The bonds may now be had from banks and bankers throughout the country.

We offer them at present at 90 and interest, and recommend them strongly to our friends and investors as one of the safest and most desirable securities on the market.

Bonds delivered free of express charges. Maps, pamphlets and circulars furnished on application.

CHAP. 700.

AN ACT to supply deficiencies in former appropriations and to pay the indebtedness of the State on account of the canals, which deficiencies and indebtedness have been changed into liabilities for money borrowed to pay them, or into certificates of indebtedness on which the State is now paying interest, and to pay the floating indebtedness of the State and the estimated liabilities for the present fiscal year not yet provided for by law, and to raise money therefor, by an issue of the bonds of the State, and to provide for submitting the question thereon to the People.

PASSED May 15, 1872; three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New-York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. To supply deficiencies in former appropriations, and to pay the indebtedness of the State on account of the canals, which deficiencies and indebtedness have been changed into liabilities for money borrowed to pay them, or into certificates of indebtedness on which the State is now paying interest, and to pay the floating indebtedness of the State, and the estimated liabilities for the present fiscal year not yet provided for by law. The following amounts are hereby appropriated: The sum of fifty-five thousand eight hundred and one dollars and ninety-five cents, to pay for deficiencies unprovided for in full by act, chapter seven hundred and sixty-eight of the laws of eighteen hundred and seventy. The sum of two hundred and sixty-nine thousand two hundred and thirty-four dollars and eighty-four cents, to pay for deficiencies in appropriations under act, chapter seven hundred and sixty-seven of the laws of eighteen hundred and seventy. The sum of one hundred and forty-four thousand three hundred and fifty-nine dollars and fifty-seven cents, to pay for deficiencies in appropriations under act, chapter nine hundred and thirty of the laws of eighteen hundred and seventy-one. The sum of sixty-five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary to meet and pay the interest on the money borrowed, or certificates of indebtedness issued, to meet the deficiencies enumerated in the three foregoing items of deficiencies. The sum of three hundred and ninety-three thousand seven hundred and fifty-five dollars and fifty-one cents, for outstanding certificates of awards of canal damages made by and expenses attending cases heard before the canal appraisers in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-one now on interest. The sum of fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary to meet and pay the interest on the certificates in the last foregoing item mentioned. The sum of twenty-five thousand four hundred and thirty-one dollars and ninety-nine cents, the amount of certificates on interest now outstanding for work done on the eastern division of the Erie canal in excess of any appropriation therefor. The sum of sixty-one thousand six hundred and eleven dollars and thirty-one cents, the amount of certificates on interest now outstanding for work done on the Champlain Canal improvement in excess of any appropriation therefor. The sum of two thousand five hundred and sixty dollars, the amount of certificates on interest now outstanding for work done on the Black River Canal in excess of any appropriation therefor. The sum of one hundred and twenty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, to pay the amount of certificates on interest now outstanding and for work done on the Chenango Canal extension in excess of any appropriation therefor, a portion of which was specially excepted from payment out of the appropriation of such Chenango Canal extension made by chapter nine hundred and thirty of the laws of eighteen hundred and seventy-one. The sum of twenty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, and now due and unpaid for work done and performed on the Oneida Lake Canal, in excess for any appropriation therefor. The sum of forty-five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary to meet and pay the interest on the last four foregoing items. The sum of two hundred and thirty-one thousand four hundred and thirty-four dollars and forty-six cents, to pay the sum of awards for damages and extra compensation made by the Canal Board in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-one. The sum of seventy-one thousand nine hundred and sixty-four dollars and sixty-eight cents, to pay the sum of awards for damages and extra compensation and expenses attending the same, made by the Board of Canal Commissioners in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-one. The sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the interest on the last two foregoing items. The sum of three hundred and fifty-six thousand seven hundred and sixty-six dollars and sixty-five cents, to supply the deficiency in the canal debt sinking fund, to meet the requirements of section three, article seven of the Constitution of the State, for interest on the Canal debt, which was due September thirtieth, eighteen hundred and seventy-one. The sum of five hundred and fifty-seven thousand one hundred dollars, to supply the canal debt sinking fund with means to pay interest on the thirtieth day of September, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, as required by section three, article seven of the Constitution of the State. The sum of one hundred and twenty-four thousand four hundred and fifteen dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, due and to be paid on final settlement of contracts for money heretofore retained by the State to secure the performance of contracts. The sum of four millions fifty-one thousand and one hundred and fifty-nine dollars for the present acknowledged deficiency, and the estimated liabilities of the general fund up to the thirtieth day of September, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, for the payment of which no appropriations have been made, but which such indebtedness has been incurred and such liabilities created, according to the report of the late Controller, transmitted to the Legislature January second, eighteen hundred and seventy-two.

SEC. 2. To provide the means of paying the said appropriation for the canals under the provisions of this act, and to pay the floating indebtedness of the State, and the estimated liabilities for the present fiscal year not yet provided by law, a debt of this State is hereby authorized, which debt shall be for the single object of raising the money to pay the appropriation herein named.

SEC. 3. The debt hereby created shall not exceed the sum of six millions six hundred thousand dollars; and there shall be imposed, levied and assessed upon the taxable property of this State a direct annual tax to pay the interest on said debt as such interest falls due, which said direct annual tax shall be sufficient to pay such interest as it falls due. And there shall also be imposed, levied and assessed upon the taxable property of this State a direct annual tax to pay, and sufficient to pay in the space of twelve years from the time of the passage of this act the whole of the debt created under and by the provisions of this act. Of the debt to be created under and by virtue of the provisions of this act, the principal of one-third part thereof shall be paid in four years from the passage of this act, the principal of one-third part thereof shall be paid in eight years from the passage of this act, and the principal of one-third part thereof shall be paid in twelve years from the passage of this act.

SEC. 4. To obtain the money necessary for the purposes contemplated by this act, the Controller is authorized to issue the bonds of the State in such sums each as shall seem meet to him, with coupons thereto attached, for the payment of the interest on such bonds, at a rate not exceeding six per centum per annum, half yearly, on the first days of July and January in each year until the principal is payable, at such place in the City of New-York as shall seem meet to him. One-third part of such bonds shall be payable in four years from the passage of this act, one-third part of such bonds shall be payable in eight years from the passage of this act, one-third part of such bonds shall be payable in twelve years from the passage of this act, and the whole principal shall be payable in such place in New-York City as the Controller shall deem meet. The Controller shall, before disposing of said bonds or any of them, advertise the proposals for the same, and shall open the proposals, and award the same to the highest bidder at a rate not less than par, which advertising and disposition shall be according to the provisions of law now existing.

SEC. 5. This act shall be submitted to the people at the next general election to be held in this State. The inspectors of election in the different election districts in the State shall provide, at each poll on said election day, a box in the usual form for the reception of the ballots herein provided: and each and every elector of this State may present a ballot, which shall be a paper ticket, on which shall be printed or written, or partly written and partly printed, one of the following forms, namely: "For the act to create a State debt to pay the canal and general fund deficiencies," or "Against the act to create a State debt to pay the canal and general fund deficiencies." The said ballots shall be so folded as to conceal the contents of the ballots, and shall be indorsed, "Act in relation to canal and general fund deficiencies."

SEC 6. After finally closing the polls of such election, the inspectors thereof shall immediately and without adjournment proceed to count and canvass the ballots given in relation to the proposed act, in the same manner as they are by law required to canvass the ballots given for Governor, and thereupon shall set down in writing and in words at full length, the whole number of votes given "For the act to create a State debt;" and the whole number of votes given "Against the act to create a State debt," and certify and subscribe the same, and cause the copies thereof to be made, certified and delivered, as prescribed by law in respect to the canvass of votes given at an election for Governor; and all the provisions of law in relation to elections, other than for military and town officers, shall apply to the submission to the people herein provided for.

SEC. 7. The Secretary of State shall, with all convenient dispatch, after this act shall receive the approval of the Governor, cause the same to be struck off and printed upon slips in such numbers as shall be sufficient to supply the different officers of this State concerned in notifying or in holding elections, or in canvassing the votes, and shall transmit the same to such officers.

SEC. 8. Sections five, six and seven of this act shall take effect immediately upon its passage, but the second, third and fourth sections thereof shall not become a law until it is ratified by the people in pursuance of the Constitution and the provisions thereof.

SEC. 9. This act shall be chapter seven hundred of the laws of eighteen hundred and seventy-two.

CHAPTER 757.

AN ACT to perfect an amendment to the Constitution relative to the Court of Appeals and for the extension of the services of the Commissioners of Appeals.

Passed May 17, 1872, three-fifths being present.

Whereas, The following amendment to the Constitution of this State was agreed to by a majority of all the members elected to each branch of the Legislature, for the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one; and the said amendment was duly entered on the journals of each branch of the Legislature, with the yeas and nays taken thereon, and referred to the Legislature to be chosen at the next general election of Senators; and was duly published for three months previous to the time of making such choice in pursuance of the thirteenth article of the Constitution of this State; and whereas, said amendment was also agreed to by a majority of all the members elected to each of the said branches of the Legislature for the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, pursuant to the said thirteenth article; which said amendment is in the words following, to wit: "Relative to the Court of Appeals and for the extension of the term of service of the Commissioners of Appeals." Resolved, (If the Assembly concur,) That the sixth article of the Constitution of this State be amended by adding thereto the following section:

SEC. 28. The Court of Appeals may order any of the causes, not exceeding five hundred in number, pending in that Court at the time of the adoption of this provision, to be heard and determined by the Commissioners of Appeals, and the Legislature may extend the term of service of the Commissioners of Appeals for a period not exceeding two years. Now, therefore, for the purpose of submitting the proposed amendment to the people of this State:

The People of the State of New-York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The inspectors at each poll in the several towns and wards of this State, at the general election to be held in this State on the fifth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, shall provide a box to receive the ballots of the citizens of this State, in relation to the said proposed amendment; and each voter may present a ballot on which shall be written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, one of the following forms, namely: "For the proposed amendment relative to the Court of Appeals," or "Against the proposed amendment relative to the Court of Appeals." The said ballots shall be indorsed, "Proposed amendment relative to the Court of Appeals," and shall be so folded as to conceal the contents of the ballot and exhibit the indorsement. And all the citizens of this State entitled to vote for members of Assembly in their respective districts shall be entitled to vote on the adoption of the said proposed amendments, during the day of election, in the several election districts in which they reside.

SEC. 2. After finally closing the poll of such election, the inspectors thereof shall count and canvass the ballots given relative to the said proposed amendment, in the same manner as they are required by law to canvass the ballots given for Governor, and thereupon shall set down in writing, and in words at full length, the whole number of votes given "For the proposed amendment relative to the Court of Appeals," and the whole number of votes given "Against the proposed amendment relative to the Court of Appeals," and shall certify and subscribe the same, and cause copies thereof to be made and certified and delivered, as prescribed by law in respect to the canvass of votes given at an election for Governor.

SEC. 3. The vote so given shall be canvassed by the Board of County Canvassers, and statements thereof shall be made, certified and signed, and recorded in the manner required by law, in respect to the canvassing the votes given at an election for Governor, and certified copies of the said statements and certificates of the County Canvassers shall be made, certified and transmitted by the County Clerks, respectively, in the manner provided by law in cases of election for Governor. The said certified copies transmitted by the County Clerks shall be canvassed by the Board of State Canvassers, in the like manner as provided by law, in respect to the election of Governor, and in like manner they shall make and file a certificate of the result of such canvass, which shall be entered of record by the Secretary of State, and shall be published by him in the State paper.

SEC. 4. This act shall take effect immediately.

Respectfully yours, &c.,
G. HILTON SCRIBNER,
Secretary of State.

LEGAL NOTICES.

SUPREME COURT.—IN THE MATTER of the application of the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New-York, relative to the opening of One Hundred and Thirty-sixth-street, from Eighth-avenue to the Harlem River, in the City of New-York.

We, the undersigned Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment in the above-entitled matter, hereby give notice to the owner or owners, occupant or occupants, of all houses and lots and improved or unimproved lands affected thereby, and to all others whom it may concern, to wit:

That we have completed our estimate and assessment, and that all persons interested in these proceedings, or in any of the lands affected thereby, and who may be opposed to the same, do present their objections in writing, duly verified, to E. B. Hart, Esq., our Chairman, at the office of the Commissioners, No. 82 Nassau-street, Room No. 24, in the said City, on or before the 8th day of October, 1872, and that we, the said Commissioners, will hear parties so objecting within the ten week days next after the said 8th day of October, and for that purpose will be in attendance at our said office on each of said ten days, at 12 o'clock M.

That the abstract of the said estimate and assessment, together with our maps, and also all the affidavits, estimates and other documents which were used by us in making our report, have been deposited in the office of the Department of Public Works in the City of New-York, there to remain until the 21st day of October, 1872.

That the limits embraced by the assessment aforesaid are as follows, to wit: All those lots, pieces or parcels of land, situate, lying and being on both sides of One Hundred and Thirty-sixth-street, between Eighth-avenue and the Harlem River, and extending on either side of One Hundred and Thirty-sixth-street, half the distance to the next street thereto, in said City of New-York.

That our report herein will be presented to the Supreme Court of the State of New-York, at a special term thereof, to be held in the new Court-house at the City Hall, in the City of New-York, on the 12th day of November, 1872, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that then and there, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard thereon, a motion will be made that the said report be confirmed.

Dated NEW-YORK, Sept. 2, 1872.

PROPOSALS.

PROPOSALS FOR HEAD-STONES FOR NATIONAL MILITARY CEMETERIES.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
QUARTERMASTER-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 1, 1872.

Proposals are invited for marking the graves in the National Cemeteries, as required by law, to be addressed to the Quartermaster-General, Washington, D. C.

Proposals should state the price for each head stone, properly inscribed and set at the head of the grave in each National Military Cemetery.

Bids may be for the whole work of all the cemeteries, or for that of several cemeteries in a district or for a single cemetery.

The bonds required will be, in amount, twenty (20) per cent. of the whole amount of each contract.

All proposals received by the Quartermaster-General will be opened on the 12th day of October, 1872, at noon, at the office of the Quartermaster-General, Washington, D. C., in presence of bidders, and contracts will be awarded to the lowest responsible bidders as soon as a comparison of the samples and prices can be completed, provided the samples are deemed suitable by the Secretary of War.

All samples should be distinctly marked in order to prevent mistakes.

Lists of the cemeteries, with the number of graves in each, together with full information as to conditions, requirements, &c., will be furnished on application in writing to the Quartermaster-General, Washington, D. C.

Envelopes containing proposals to be indorsed "Proposals for Head-stones for National Military Cemeteries," and addressed to the Quartermaster-General, Washington, D. C.

A SHOCKING MURDER.

A Christening and a Wedding Followed by a Murder.

Tragic Scene in an Eleventh Ward Tenement-House—A Swedish Stevedore Stabbed to the Heart by His Brother-in-Law.

The tenement-house No. 76 Jackson-street, corner of Front-street, was the scene of a terrible tragedy last evening. A foul murder, made more appalling by the fact that, under the roof beneath which the crime was committed, the parties engaged had participated in a christening party and a wedding feast.

The story, a simple one in all its aspects, is as follows: The house, which is known as "the Barracks," is a large tenement dwelling of the poorer class. On the third floor, in the rear, John Bachman, a Swedish laborer, occupies two rooms. A little over a year ago he married a young Irishwoman named Landers. Joseph Burnett, a Swedish stevedore, thirty-five years of age, living at No. 200 Madison-street, at the same time married a sister of Bachman's wife, a young woman of about twenty-five years. These girls had two brothers, Garrett and Timothy Landers, tailors, working at 806 Pearl-st. Bachman's wife was confined a few days ago, and yesterday was fixed on for the christening. A young couple living on the floor beneath were married at 2 o'clock. Garrett and Timothy Landers, Burnett and his wife, and a Mrs. Wheelan, of No. 326 Cherry-street, came to Bachman's place to be present at the chistening. Everything passed off pleasantly until about 6½ o'clock, when Burnett became involved in an altercation with Timothy Landers, his brother-in-law. Mrs. Burnett, from what can be learned, it appears did some sewing-machine work for her brothers, for which she never was paid, and Timothy Landers, who employed her, owed her $35. Burnett taxed him with meanness in not paying this sum, and Landers replied in an offensive and insulting way. From the sitting room, in which the dispute began, Timothy Landers and Burnett went into the kitchen, and there came to blows. They clinched, and Landers, drawing from his coat-pocket a tailor's scissors, stabbed Burnett through the left breast to the heart. Burnett fell dying across the threshold of the open door crying, "My God, I'm stabbed," and Timothy Landers with his brother, Garrett, dashed down the stairs and escaped. The only witnesses to the tragedy were Mrs. Burnett and Mrs. Whelan. Burnett was placed on a sofa in the room. The persons there did not think he was fatally wounded, and did not notify Officer John B. Smith of the Thirteenth Precinct, who was on post in Jackson-street, until almost 7 o'clock, before which time Burnett had died. The officer ran at once to the station-house at the corner of Attorney and Delancey streets, and Sergeant Stutsbury sent out the following general alarm: "Arrest Timothy Landers, thirty-five years, tailor, of No. 36 Park-street; just murdered Joseph Burnett, at No. 76 Jackson-street." Roundsman Wasoner and Officer Post remained in the house watching the body and Detectives Parrish and Johnson started out to find and arrest Timothy Landers. Landers is thirty-five years of age, appears to be forty years old, dark complexion, five feet eight inches in height, was dressed in dark clothes, and wore a black hat. Mrs. Maria Taylor, of No. 76 Jackson-street, one of the witnesses, who saw him leave the house, said that his hat was crushed down over his eyes. Burnett was a man five feet seven inches in hight, sandy hair and moustache, and of powerful frame. He was neatly dressed in a black frock-coat, white vest, light pants, embroidered shirt and gaiters. He was a man of reputable character and a kind husband.

Arrest of the Murderer.

Sergeant Christie and Officer Parrish proceeded to the Sixth Ward and after considerable inquiry learned that Timothy Landers lived at No. 39 Park-street, instead of No. 36, as had been stated. They found Landers there, preparing to leave the City, having taken off his old clothes, and donned a new suit. He was taken to the Delancey-street Station. In an interview he said that he did have a tussle with Burnett, but did not strike the latter. His brother Garrett separated them, and he says if Burnett was stabbed it was Garrett Landers and not himself who did the deed. Garrett lives in Illinois and is supposed to have fled the City.

SUNDAY BRAWLS.

Attempted Parricide and its Consequences—A Vicious Italian's Work.—Rows, Family Fights, and Pistol Practice.

Officer Castle, of the Twenty-first Precinct, arrested a laborer named Patrick Donohoe, for threatening to kill his father. While taking the prisoner to the Station house, having reached the corner of Thirty-fourth-street and Third-avenue, a noted ruffian named Green rushed up and striking officer Castle several times, attempted to rescue the prisoner. Castle held fast to his man, and Capt. Williamson coming up gave chase to Green, who fled. Capt. Williamson pursued him, and, drawing his revolver, fired three shots over Green's head, expecting that Green would surrender. But Green kept on, and, dashing down Thirty-third-street to the East River, jumped overboard and escaped.

Edward Mott, of No. 180 Franklin-street, was walking through Fulton-street, near West, on Saturday night, and accidentally trod on the heel of Joseph Barrise, an Italian. Barrise turned round and stabbed him in the left side, wounding him severely. Mott was taken to the Park Hospital, and Barrise, on being arraigned at the Tombs, yesterday, was held for trial.

Patrick Lydon and James Lenihan, of No. 305 East Forty-sixth-street, quarreled yesterday morning, when Lydon struck Lenihan on the head with a hammer, knocking him down stairs and injuring him seriously.

The Swamp Gang came to the front as usual on Sunday morning with another fight, and as usual, owing to the incapacity of the officer commanding the precinct, the criminal escaped. Peter Tighe, of No. 37 Roosevelt-street, and Charles McBride, of Vandewater-street, a member of the Swamp Gang, quarreled in front of No. 23 Chatham-street. McBride drew a revolver and shot Tighe in the thigh, wounding him severely. McBride then leisurely walked away, and a policeman, coming up soon after, took Tighe to the Park Hospital.

Daniel Geeoff, twenty-one years of age, of No. 115 Mulberry-street, and Michael Carroll, twenty-one years old, of No. 41 Baxter-street, quarreled at No. 44 Baxter-street, when Carroll stabbed Geeoff in the left breast, causing a severe wound. Geeoff was taken to the Park Hospital, and Carroll arrested. He was held for trial at the Tombs.

Rosanna Quinn, forty years old, of No. 301 Spring-street, came to the Eighth Precinct Station-house yesterday morning with a bad cut in her head, which she said had been inflicted by her husband, John Quinn, hitting her with a poker. Quinn was arrested and locked up, and Rosanna was sent to Bellevue Hospital.

Eliza Kane, an unfortunate, living at No. 281 Mott-street, was struck in the face and badly cut by an unknown man, in the Bowery, near Bleecker-street, yesterday morning.

John Duffy, nineteen years old, and Mary Caughlin quarreled at their residence, No. 73 Mulberry-street, last night, when Duffy hit Mary on the head with a poker, cutting her severely. He was arrested, and the injured woman was sent to the Park Hospital.

Henry Rice, thirty-six years old, an Irish laborer, of No. 11 Mulberry-street, went into the liquor store in the first floor of his residence, accompanied by three other drunken men, and began smashing the glasses and mirrors and throwing tumblers at the bar-tender, Daniel Slater. Slater reached for a revolver, whereon Rice and his companions ran into the street. Slater fired at Rice through the window, but missed him. Some of the broken glass struck Rice's wife, Mary, on the right hand, and cut her slightly. Rice and Slater were locked up in the Franklin-street Station.

Fatal Accident at Newark.

Michael Lee, residing on South-street, Newark, and employed by Mr. Bockus, the architect and builder, was thrown from a carriage, at the corner of Murray and Mulberry streets, on Saturday night, and his neck broken. He was intoxicated at the time, and was driving with young Mr. Bockus, and insisted upon driving, although he was not in a condition to do so. The body was taken to Compton's morgue.

A Car-Conductor Charged With Robbery.

Charles L. Ryder, a conductor on the Grand-street line of cars, and a young man of respectable appearance, was arraigned before Justice Dowling, at the Tombs, yesterday morning, charged with robbery. The complainant, Mr. Aaron Wolsberg, of No. 499 Canal-street, testified that about 10 o'clock on Saturday night he got on the railroad car conducted by the prisoner. He had in his pants pocket a purse containing $250, and wore his watch and chain. On reaching the corner of Hudson and Vestry streets he asked the conductor to stop the car, as he desired to get off. Four men who were on the rear platform at once began to jostle and crowd around him. He felt he was being robbed, and, putting his hand on his watch, called out to stop the car as he was being robbed. At this time his hat was knocked down over his eyes, he believes by the conductor. The car was not stopped, and the four men threw Mr. Wolzberg off the platform. He at once discovered that his pocket-book had been stolen, and ran after the car down Vestry-street to the end of the line. The four men jumped off, and, mingling with the crowd, escaped. His pocket-book was found on the track of the railroad, where it had evidently been thrown from the car. Judge Dowling held Ryder for trial.

THE TURF.

Third Annual Meeting of the Maryland Jockey Club—The Programme—General Notes.

Mr. J. D. Ferguson, the Secretary of the Maryland Jockey Club, has issued the programme for the annual Fall meeting, which is to take place at the Pimlico Course, Baltimore, on Tuesday, Oct. 22, and continuing four days. This is the last great meeting of the year in the Eastern section of the country, and there is generally a grand rally of the flyers to wind up the season with a flourish.

The meeting will open on Tuesday, Oct. 22, with a hurdle race for all ages, welter weights, two miles, over eight hurdles; and then comes the Dixie Stakes, for foals of 1869, two miles. The subscription is $300 and $100 forfeit, M. H. Sandford to add $2,000, the second horse to receive $1,000 from the Jockey Club and the third to receive $500 out of the stakes. There are ninety entries in this great stake, which will be worth near $15,000 to the winner. Among the entries are such well-known ones as Wade Hampton, Experience Oaks, Joe Daniels, Hubbard, Woodbine, Alarm, Cape Race, Silent Friend, Mate, and others. Col. McDaniel's thinks he will win it, but the race may turn out to be another dinner party affair, when Foster was defeated by Preakness and Ecliptic. The third race will be the Pimlico Stakes, mile heats, for all ages, $25 each, play or pay, and $600 added; the second horse to receive $150 out of the stakes. This is to close on the 15th of October. The last race of the day will be a dash of three miles for a purse of $800. The second day of the meeting will be Wednesday, Oct. 23, and the opening race will be a dash of two miles for a purse of $600 for four-year olds and upward. The second race will be a dash of a mile for all three-year olds, except those placed in the Dixie Stakes. The third event is the Central Stakes for two-year olds, dash of a mile, which has closed with twenty-three nominations, among them Count D'Orsay, Catesby, Luna, and other fast youngsters. The concluding race of the day will be a very popular one with the old line of turfmen, viz.: Mile heats, best three in five, for all ages, purse $1,000. This will be a grand race, and will create much excitement.

The third day of the meeting will occur on Friday, Oct. 25, and will be inaugurated with a Free Handicap Sweepstakes for all ages of $25 each, if not declared, with $500 added; two miles. The entries for this are to close on the second day of the meeting. The second race will also be a Free Handicap, but will be confined to three-year olds. The distance will be a mile, and the conditions the same as the preceding handicap. The third race is a selling race for all ages, dash of a mile, with the usual allowances. The fourth race is the Bowie Stakes, next in importance to the Dixie Stakes. It is a post stake of four-mile heats, $100 subscription and $1,500 added. The subscribers to this are Joseph Donahue, D. McDaniel & Co., A. Belmont, F. Morris, R. W. Cameron, John F. Chamberlin, and M. H. Sanford. Harry Bassett will, of course, represent the confederacy, and Mr. Sanford will probably name Monarchist at the post.

The fourth and last day of the meeting will be Saturday, Oct. 26, the opening affair being a Hurdle Handicap of two miles over eight hurdles, $400 to the winner and $100 to the second horse. Next will come a purse of $400 for two-year-olds, dash of a mile. The winner of the Central Stakes will be excluded. Then will come the mile heats for all ages, and to bring the meeting to a close, there will be a grand handicap race of two mile heats for a purse of $1,100—$200 of which will go to the second horse. The programme as above sketched will afford the devotees of the turf sport sufficient to last them until the roses bloom again and the tocsin summons them to the field at our own Jerome Park in 1873.

NOTES.

The coming week will be prolific in turf events, both trotting and running. The Fall meeting of the Fleetwood Association is to begin on the 1st of October and continue on the 3d, 4th and 7th days of the month. The entries closed on the 16th very strong. In the 2:50 class there are ten: in 2:26 class seven are entered; the 2:34 purse has six, the 2:29 purse has thirteen, the 2:38 class has ten and the 2:23 class has seven. For the last day there are fourteen in the 2:31 purse, and in the free for all there are George Palmer, Rosalind and American Girl. This foots up seventy entries, which insures a great success for the Association.

Between the days of the Fleetwood meeting the races of the American Jockey Club of Jerome Park come off. We have noticed the programme at length in a former issue. The following week the Prospect Park Association will hold its October meeting, the purses for which are to close on the 30th September.

In our report of the three-mile race at Prospect Park, a typographical error gave the average time Huntress made to the mile as 2:27½. It should have read 2:27:1-12 to the mile.

THE TAMMANY IMBROGLIO.

Rival Representatives and Their Bitter Fights—The Third Assembly District Troubles and What They Promise.

Since the Tammany Hall Smelling Committee discovered that there was "something rotten in Denmark," the discovery of the "traitors" has been a question of the most absorbing interest to the Mother of Rings. Every Tammanyite has doubts of the political leaning of his neighbor, and those who have much to gain by keeping Tammany integrate express the determination that the work of purging shall go on until the Tammany General Committee is entirely rid of the supporters of Grant and Wilson, and even of those who presume to declare a preference for James O'Brien as Mayor.

An illustration of the quarrels distracting this once powerful but now divided organization, is the fight for the ascendency now going on between two rival factions in the Third Assembly District, Fourteenth Ward, led respectively by James Hayes, Ex-Supervisor and Assemblyman, and James Gibbons, lawyer. Both of the disputants belong to the Tammany Hall General Committee, and the district is entitled to a representation of eighteen delegates to that body. The delegation is split into two parties, consisting of nine under each leader. At the back of each nine is about an equal strength of the Tammanyites of the district. The most virulent antagonism exists between the rival factions, two distinct political parties could scarcely be more antagonistic. The division has been growing for some time past, beginning about the time of the last election.

The issue at stake, it is claimed by the Gibbons people, is "brains versus muscle," they claiming also, of course, that all the "brains" is on their side of the house. Hayes, it is asserted, and with much appearance of truth, from the character of his followers, is the leader of the "muscle." He is alleged to be a corrupt politician who began his political life a comparatively poor man, and is now worth hundreds of thousands of dollars.

With power behind his throne, Hayes has been so far enabled to have granted whatever he has demanded from the Tammany chiefs.

Gibbons took a bold stand some time ago against Hayes' supremacy, and has been the subject of much vituperation and personal abuse in consequence. Being a man of light physique he has never resented the abusive attacks upon him, but has firmly and quietly opposed his powerful opponent with such mental weapons as he could command. His opposition has at length brought him adequate support.

By a resolution of the Committee on Organization, adopted by the Tammany Hall General Committee at their last meeting, the two representatives of the Third Assembly District in the Committee on Organization, James Hayes and James Gibbons were requested to withdraw from the same, and it was declared that the district should be entitled to only one representative. The Gibbons party declare that Hayes shall not be the representative selected, and the Hayes party declare vice versa. A meeting of the Gibbons "Nine" was held yesterday, but its result was not ascertained, as the session was secret.

Nominations are but little talked of in the district while this battle is raging, but the Gibbons men have taken up Timothy O'Brien, one of their party, as a candidate for Assistant Alderman, and are to visit the great chiefs of the tribe, John Kelley and Sheriff Brennan, today, to urge his nomination by Tammany Hall. Opposed to him are John Bush, who announces himself as a candidate, and who, it is alleged, now lives in One Hundred and Eighteenth-street, and is looking for apartments in the Fourteenth Ward, where he intends to "squat" until after election. Hugh O'Brien, the present incumbent of the office, elected on the Tammany ticket, it is alleged, has held office for sixteen years, and is also desirous of the candidacy. He, it is said, will have "to give way," however, for a "new deal."

Some of the public-spirited citizens of the district believe that if the Committee of Seventy would institute a vigorous campaign here, that the most desirable results for reform would ensue.

Suit Against the Eastern Railroad.

From the Boston Transcript, Sept. 21.

Jefferson C. Rowe, the brakeman at Revere, who stood at his post between two of the demolished cars and suffered most terrible injuries, barely and miraculously escaping with life, has brought suit against the Eastern Railroad corporation, laying his damages at $35,000. Those who were on that fated train will watch his case, as they have his recovery, with interest.

CONNECTICUT.

The Alleged German Convention—What It Was—A Transparent Fraud—Secret Circulars About the "Failing Cause."

From Our Own Correspondent.

NEW-HAVEN, Saturday, Sept. 21, 1872.

In the Tribune of Saturday appears a flaming telegram from Meriden, in this State, telling of a "Convention of the German-American citizens of Connecticut," "composed of men of all parties, without regard to former political affiliations," and giving a string of Democratic resolutions indorsing Greeley and Brown.

This grand Convention was of precisely the following dimensions:

Hartford delegation	11
New-Haven delegation	17
Meriden	7
Total	35

It was the thinnest kind of a Democrat fraud, put up at the Liberal head-quarters for the purpose of deluding the Germans of other States by leading them to imagine that the Germans of the State have taken action as a body. Moreover, the Meriden delegation, when it discovered that the object of those who were present from Hartford and New-Haven was to help bolster up the failing cause of Greeley and Brown, unanimously voted against the adoption of the resolutions, but were, of course, out-voted by the Democrats from the other cities. The Convention represented simply the members present, a few German Democrats of the three towns named. None of the other cities or towns of the State where there is a large German element were represented, and election day will show that the German voters will not be led by the nose by the handful of ambitious schemers who were induced to take part in this deception. I am mistaken if protests are not made against this action by the Germans in different parts of the State. Certainly there will be if the affair should be deemed of sufficient importance.

A SECRET CIRCULAR.

It has recently been discovered that the Chairman of the Liberal State Committee has issued a secret circular to the faithful few soreheads throughout the State, urging them to unite with the Democrats at the town elections on the first Monday in October, and endeavor to show such Democratic gains throughout the State as will have a quickening effect upon the Presidential campaign. Usually very little interest is taken in the town elections, and the hope was to catch the Republicans napping, and by electing a few justices of the peace, selectmen and pound-keepers, to furnish the Greeley Press the materials for a grand howl of victory for effect on Pennsylvania and Indiana. The circular says such a result would do much to encourage the liberal element, and would have a tendency to bring out those who are now hesitating and do not wish to join "a failing cause." Now that the design has been discovered, the appeal will probably have precisely the contrary effect from what was intended.

You may confidently look from now until election for weekly reports in Mr. Greeley's mouthpiece of the glorious prospects in this State for the Reform Party, but those who give faith to them, and expect to see Mr. Clark's ten thousand majority for Greeley will be sadly deluded. The fact is had the election in this State taken place before those of Vermont and Maine, the coalition might have secured a small majority, but it has been losing ground ever since, and if the October elections should result disastrously for "reform," the State will give Grant about as large a majority as four years ago. We shall consider it victory enough to settle the Presidential contest if any portion of the Republican ticket in Pennsylvania is elected. The Liberal Committee have not yet made a canvass of the State although they make such boasts of strength, and they know, as does every one else, that the cause is failing. On the other hand, the Republican State Committee has the most encouraging reports from all quarters, and will be able to furnish you some interesting figures shortly. There is no solid comfort for Greeley in Connecticut. FITZHUGH.

How the People will Vote.

From the Albany Evening Express.

A survey of the political situation in this State has resulted in the following general classification of voters. The following classes of people will vote for Francis Kernan for Governor:

First—Those who sympathized with Mr. Kernan's anti-war notions during the progress of the pro-slavery rebellion.

Second—Those who engaged in the draft riots of 1863, and who were addressed by Gov. Seymour, one of Mr. Kernan's principal supporters, as "friends."

Third—Those who engaged in the riots against the Orangemen, July 12, 1871.

Fourth—Those who think it right and proper to rebuke Gov. Hoffman for having been so severe upon the rioters of 1863, and for having ordered out the military to suppress the Anti-Orange riots last year.

Fifth—Those who favor appropriations to sectarian schools, and who are opposed to a system of public non-sectarian schools.

Sixth—Certain ungrateful Republicans, who want to punish the party because they have not been permitted to hold all the offices, or to fill them with their friends.

In addition to the classes mentioned, Mr. Kernan will, of course, receive the support of some worthy and estimable citizens, who, however much they may be mistaken, actually believe Mr. Kernan the best man for the place. This class, however, is not a large on.

Gen. John A. Dix will have the support of the following classes:

First—Those who fought to put down the rebellion.

Second—Those who, while they did not actively participate in the great struggle, heartily supported the war measures of the Government, and stood ready to expend their last dollar rather than to see the rebellion successful.

Third—Those who oppose riots and disorders of every kind, and who believe that Oragemen have as good a right to parade upon the 12th of July, as Catholic Irishmen on the 17th of March.

Fourth—Those Democrats who believe that Gov. Hoffman was slaughtered to appease the demands of the New-York rioters and their friends.

Fifth—Those who oppose sectarian appropriations, and who are heartily in favor of our present free school system.

Sixth—Those who earnestly and heartily favor reform in our State and Municipal Governments; who are opposed to the gang which for so many years plundered the people of New-York; who favor honest elections, and who are opposed to fraud and corruption in every form. Let our voters choose where they will be classified.

The Monument to Baron Steuben to be Unveiled Sept. 30.

The monument over the grave of Baron Steuben, in the town of Steuben, Oneida County, is to be unveiled on Monday, Sept 30. The Utica Herald says: "The monument has for some time been completed, and this will be but another and customary respect shown to the departed. The arrangements are under charge of a local committee, in connection with Gov. Seymour and S. C Kapff, of New-York, for the societies of that City. The programme has been arranged as follows: After the arrival on the grounds, and at about 10½ o'clock in the morning, prayer will be offered by the minister of the Welsh congregation, followed by singing by societies from New-York and the Utica Mannerchor. After the singing, for and in behalf of the New-York societies, S. C. Kapff will present the monument to the resident society; ex-Governor Seymour will respond to the presentation speech, in behalf of resident Germans. Among the invited guests are President Grant, Gov. Hoffman, Gen. Franz Sigel, Carl Schurz, Oswald Ottendorfer, and J. J. Friedman, of New-York. A few words appropriate to the occasion will be expected from each of the invited guests present, as also from Prof. Zarth, of this city, and Sixtus Ludwig Kapff. The addresses will be interspersed with songs and instrumental music. The Utica Citizens' Corps has been invited to participate in the day's pleasure, and, we believe, look with favor o the proposition. Other societies have also been invited."

The Metis Disaster—Services of the Moccasin Recognized.

Acting-Secretary Richardson of the Treasury Department has sent a letter to Capt. Ritchie, of the United States revenue steamer Moccasin, in acknowledgment of the services rendered by the officers and men of that vessel in saving the lives of the passengers and crew of the steamer Metis, wrecked near Watch Hill Point in the Sound on the morning of Aug. 31. He says: "The Department recognizes with great satisfaction the energy, courage and self-sacrifice, which all attached to the Moccasin displayed on that occasion, and which resulted in saving from death forty-two of their fellow-beings. Although the great success which attended their humane efforts furnishes in itself an ample reward, yet the warm commendations which the public Press have bestowed upon them must enhance their gratification, and it is hoped will also encourage them to continue to so discharge their duties as to maintain the good name they have acquired, and stimulate others to emulate their example. You will cause this letter to be read on the deck of the Moccasin, at general quarters, on the day of its receipt."

TIDAL WAVES.

Observations Made at the Late Disturbances in the Vicinity of the Sandwich Islands.

From the Honolulu Gazette, Aug. 28.

It will be well to place on record, for future reference, the facts relating to the recent tidal wave, which swept through the group as far as heard from.

It occurred on Friday, Aug. 23, at 12 o'clock, noon. The foundry whistle had just sounded, when Capt. Daniel Smith and Mr. Emmes both observed the water rushing out of the harbor, the reef quite bare, and the native fishermen shouting and running inland. In ten minutes the sea returned to the height of full tide. Capt. Smith noted down his observations at the time.

The tide-register at the light-house marked a sudden fall of about fifteen inches, but the clock not being regulated to shore time, the true time at which it occurred cannot be determined by it. From 12 to 1½ P. M., there were five distinct waves, each less in height than the previous, but showing a range of twelve to fifteen inches; and the sea, during the afternoon and evening, as indicated by the tide-register, was quite irregular and restless.

At Hanaeli, Kauai, the steamer Kilauea was just getting under way, and the bell had struck for 12 o'clock, when Capt. McGregor noticed the sea receding from the harbor, leaving the reef quite bare. It soon returned, causing an extraordinary surf all along the shore.

At Nawiliwili, at the same hour, the sea receded and returned five times, with a range of some two to three feet between the lowest and highest point. The form of the bay is calculated to produce a higher rise of the water in such occurrences. It may be remarked here that the usual tides do not show a range of over twenty inches throughout our group. At the date when the wave occurred, (five days after full moon,) there is generally much less rise and fall.

Capt. Williams, of the British ketch Ino, reports that on Aug. 18, in latitude 18° 55' north, longitude 159° west, (nearly in a line with the south point of Hawaii,) he had heavy rain, with thunder and lightning. The sea for twenty-four hours was violently breaking and boiling, as on a bar or reef. Wind north-east, strong and squally, latter part calm, with an extraordinary sea. This would indicate some submarine commotion in connection with the volcano.

It will be interesting to refer to previous similar phenomena. There were two tidal waves observed here during 1868. The first occurred about 6 P. M., April 2, some two hours later than the great tidal wave which took place simultaneously with the earthquake shock and mud eruption in Kau, at 4 P. M. on that day. At Keauhou, on the south-eastern shore of Hawaii, where the submarine shock occurred which produced the wave, the sea rose ten or twelve feet, then receded eighteen feet below low-water mark, then suddenly returned with a terrific wave, which "swept over the tops of cocoanut trees," destroying houses, trees and many lives. The sea rose and fell eight times, each following wave having diminished force.

Again, on the 13th and 14th of August, 1868, the same phenomenon occurred throughout the group, having originated in the great earthquake in Peru. This was first noticed here at 9 P. M. of the 13th, when the sea rose unusually high. At 12 P. M. it suddenly receded, leaving the reef bare, and caused such a noise as waked many natives living near the sea. It rose gradually, and at 7 A. M. of the 14th, receded again very rapidly, and rose in fifteen minutes, 46 inches. At 8:20 A. M. it receded and rose rapidly 28 inches. At 2:35 P. M. it marked the highest range, 5 feet and 4 inches above the lowest fall.

At Hilo, the sea continued to rise and fall for thirty hours, with a range of eight feet, alternately overflowing the beach and leaving the reef bare.

In 1837, at 6 P. M., the sea in Honolulu harbor fell eight feet below high-water mark. In twenty-eight minutes it returned, and again receded six feet.

At Hilo this same wave showed a range of thirty feet! having been quite destructive to life and property. It was equally destructive on the windward side of Maui, causing great loss of life. It probably originated in an earthquake on the South American coast, like that of August, 1868. H. M. W.

The Fire on the Dean Richmond—A Lady Passenger's Description.

From the Troy Whig, Sept. 20.

We are permitted to make the following extract from a letter written by a lady who was on board the Dean Richmond, on Monday evening, when the boat took fire:

"I experienced, Monday evening, on the boat, what I hope I may never experience again—all the horror and dreadful feelings which come over one in the first few moments when there is a cry of fire at sea, especially when one sees the flame and smoke and steam rushing toward the saloon, as I did on coming out. We had been sitting on deck until 9 o'clock, when, feeling very tired, I concluded to go and lie down, not intending to undress, as I never do on a steam-boat, for I always have had the greatest dread of an accident on those steam-boats, especially since there have been so many disasters. I had just laid down my bag, and taken off my cloak, when some one said, 'The boat's on fire.' I made a rush for the door with my traps, not knowing where to find my brother, but there he was looking for me. Such confusion and despair I never saw—the doors of the state-rooms all open, and men, women and children trying to dress as fast as they could, some just throwing their skirts over their night-dresses and carrying their clothes in their arms, the women having scarcely any hair on the backs of their heads, screaming and running around. One poor woman ran to her state-room and shook the door, crying, 'Oh, my children my dear children.' A gentleman standing by said, 'You can't open it that way; have you not a key?' 'Oh, yes,' she said, 'it's in my pocket.' We did not know at first that help was so near at hand, or I should have taken it more calmly, but when we got off on to the Pleasant Valley we had time to think and look around, and there were three women in their night-dresses, and one wishing for her boots, as her feet were cold. After the fire was put out we went back on the boat, and such a débris as was there! Sacques, hoop-skirts, chignons, and switches, left by their owners in the late fright, who were claiming them after the danger was over. Some of the passengers took the train at Peekskill, but we thought it would be safe to go back, as a great many others did so, and the boat kept pretty well in-shore all night."

Extensive Robbery at a Printing-House.

For some time past Messrs. Poole & Maclauchlan, the extensive printers of East Twelfth-street, have missed quantities of paper, amounting in value to $20,000. They could not account for the loss, and were unable to fix on any person in their employ as the thief. They communicated with Superintendent Kelso, and Detectives Kearns and Kelso were placed on the case. On Saturday evening they saw a cart filled with unprinted paper driven away from Messrs. Poole & Maclauchlan's establishment. They followed the cart to a paper-stock dealers' store in Crosby-street, and were gladdened soon after by seeing Michael O'Brien, of Long Island City, a paper-wetter in the employ of Messrs. Poole & Maclauchlan, come to the paper dealers' to receive the price of the stolen property. They arrested him and locked him up in Police Head-quarters. He admitted having sold large quantities of blank paper given him to wet. He will be arraigned at the Tombs today.

The President's Letter to Cincinnati.

The following is a copy of President Grant's letter declining the invitation to visit Cincinnati:

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Sept. 13, 1872.

DEAR SIR: I regret not being able to accept the kind invitation extended by the citizens of Cincinnati, Ohio, through you, to attend the Exposition now being held there. I have been obliged to decline a number of similar invitations to visit different parts of the country, on the ground that I shall be engaged in official labors, preparatory to the meeting of Congress.

Last year I had the pleasure of visiting your Exposition, and should be glad to be able to do so again if it were possible, particularly as it would afford me an opportunity to meet again many of my old associates of early years.

Please convey to the Committee who have honored me with this invitation my regrets at not being able to accept it, and best wishes for the success of the Exposition now being held in Cincinnati. Very truly yours,

U. S. GRANT.

J. L. PECK, Esq., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Alleged Murder by a Boy of Seven Years.

From the New-Albany (Ind.) Ledger.

Last Sunday afternoon, the people of Lexington, Scott County, were horrified at the announcement that a little son of Mr. Hugh Loftus, of that place, only seven years old, had shot a daughter of Jerry Chandler, at the tender age of five years. They were togethr in a room of Loftus' house. Young Loftus said he would kill the little girl, when she ran away, but subsequently returned, when the young fiend deliberately took up a shot-gun and fired, filling the poor little girl's stomach with slugs. She survived until Monday, when she died about daylight. The above is substantially what the little girl stated after the terrible tragedy. A resident of Lexington states that it was not many days previous to this that he saw young Loftus in a stable, trying to get the little girl to put her arm under the blade of the cutting-machine, in order that he might cut it off.

Fatal Explosion at the Hoosac Tunnel.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 22.—A premature explosion at the west end of the Hoosac Tunnel yesterday killed an old man named Peter Stone, a Canadian, seriously injured John Smith, and slightly injured two other workmen.

The Eichenkranz, a popular German vocal organization, celebrated its third anniversary at the Turn Hall, last night, by a concert, banquet, and ball, which secured a numerous attendance.

At the Yorkville Police Court yesterday, Patrick Lynch, of No. 305 East Forty-sixth-street, was committed to await the result of injuries inflicted by him upon James Lenahan, who resides in the same house, in a drunken quarrel on Saturday night.

Isaac Bloomfield, the colored man, who on Saturday night shot and dangerously wounded his wife, Sarah, at No. 44 Thomas-street, was arrested in Maiden-lane, yesterday morning, by Officer Bliss, of the Second Precinct, and held for trial at the Tombs.

A grand concert was given, last night, at St. John the Evangelist's church, situated in Fiftieth-street, between Fourth and Madison avenues, the proceeds being devoted to the defraying of some little debt incurred in the building of the grand organ.

The funeral of Henry Nelson, an active member of Company K, Eighty-fourth Regiment, took place yesterday at St. Ambrose Church, Thompson-street. Nelson died while his wife was attending the funeral of his daughter.

The firm of Prindle, Morgan & Co., No. 150 Broadway, whose suspension was announced on Saturday, in consequence of the failure of the Andes Insurance Company, deny that any defalcation in their accounts has taken place, and say that the liabilities will be covered as soon as the accounts can be properly adjusted.

R. Abarbarnell's fur-dressing establishment, Nos. 103 and 105 Goerck-street, was damaged $2,000 on stock by fire, yesterday morning; insured for $3,250 in Ætna and $750 in Newport Company. The building, owned by Mr. Schultz, was damaged $800; insured for $1,800 in the Pacific and Ætna Companies.

At Jefferson Market Police Court, yesterday, before Justice Kane, William Moffatt, of No. 475 West Twenty-sixth-street, was committed to answer in default of $1,000 bail, for having, in company with John Murphy, not arrested, attacked Michael Regan, No. 39 Thompson-street, robbing him of $50.

Last evening Rev. C. P. Smyth, who stopped the funeral of Miss Hewitt, last week, alleging that she had died under suspicious circumstances, but which a post-mortem examination proved not to be the case, attempted to defend himself in a "sermon" embodying a relation of what he knew about the case.

The usual Sunday evening service of song held by the Young Men's Christian Association took place last night in Association Hall, Twenty-third-street and Fourth-avenue, and was very largely attended. Rev. R. H. Orr, of County Tyrone, Ireland, addressed the young men.

The usual weekly meeting of the Coach-drivers' Association was held last night in Constitution Hall, Third-avenue and Twenty-second-street. A committee was appointed to wait on the bosses with a copy of this circular, and obtain their answer in the matter of increased wages.

Last evening Mr. John Noa, Custom-house weight inspector, residing at No. 244 Avenue A, while riding in an Avenue B car which collided with a Third-avenue car at the junction of the two lines in Printing-house-square, had his hand badly crushed, and was removed to the hospital. At the time of the accident Mr. Noa had his arm protruding from the window.

The pie-bakers of this City have formed a company, with a working capital of $300,000, and have just completed a building on Sullivan-street, and will turn out 60,000 pies a day. The body of an unknown drowned man was found near Bedloe's Island yesterday by a party returning to Jersey City from Staten Island. It had apparently been in the water for some time, and was removed to Brody's Morgue, Jersey City.

How a Young Lady of Peoria Poisoned Herself.

From the Peoria (Ill.) Transcript, Sept. 19.

A couple of young ladies from the country came into this city a few days ago for the purpose of attending the Normal School, and having obtained rooms on the bluff, on Thursday took possession of them. They had not been in possession long before they found that the rooms were infested with mice and rats. They therefore procured some arsenic, and in the evening one of the ladies spread a piece of bread with butter, and putting on some of the poison, covered the whole with some sugar. Instead of immediately putting the deadly viand where the animals, she wished to kill would be most likely to get it, she foolishly laid it on the table and prepared another piece of bread for herself in the same manner, of course, omitting the arsenic. This piece she laid on the table beside the other, and taking up a book, drew a chair beside the table and commenced reading. Absorbed in reading and yet conscious that she was hungry she without looking up, reached out her hand and took what she supposed to be the harmless food. But she had taken the wrong piece as she suddenly found, and a physician was hastily summoned. He remained with the sufferer all night and yesterday, thought she was out of danger, although very sick.

Accident to One of the Pennsylvania Republican State Candidates.

From the Erie (Penn.) Dispatch, Sept. 20.

At 4 P. M., yesterday, Gen. Allen, our candidate for Auditor-General, while stepping on the cars at the depot to go to his home in Warren, missed his footing, on account of the pressure of the crowd on the platform, and fell under. One of his feet was crushed, but how badly we could not learn. The General was taken to a private house, where he received surgical attendance. He left for home on the 7 P. M. train, in care of a number of friends. We trust the injury may not be serious, though it will probably keep him on crutches for some time, as his services are too valuable in the campaign for him to be cooped up at home. His many warm friends will not permit his interests to suffer while he is temporarily a prisoner at his residence.

Grant Defended Against Sumner.

From the New-York World, Dec. 21, 1865.

What Gen. Lee failed to do Mr. Charles Sumner, of Massachusetts, has undertaken to accomplish. The American people, who believe that the Republic owes something to the soldier who led our armies to final victory over the rebellion, will be edified by the modesty of the Massachusetts Senator who yesterday assailed, scrap-book in hand, the honor and the veracity of Ulysses S. Grant.

Gen. Grant has seen the South. Mr. Charles Sumner never ventured beyond the line of our national bayonets, arrayed for war. Gen. Grant defeated the gallant armies which for four long years held at bay the whole power of the Union. Mr. Charles Sumner was ignominiously thrashed with a cane by a South Carolina Representative, long since dead and turned to dust.

The hero of a hundred fights recommends that the Southern people be intrusted with the control of their own affairs. The victim of Mr. Preston Brooks, writhing still with an impotent lust of personal vengeance upon the innocent fellow-citizens of a rash and hasty man, whom God has removed from all human retribution, shrieks out foul-mouthed abuse of the President, and clamors for the practical abolition of the Constitution and the Union.

Heaven forbid that we should insult the common sense and patriotism of the American people with argument in such a case as this. Never were the man and the fanatic more sharply brought face to face than here. Gen. Grant fought to save the Union and the Constitution. Did the heroic Americans who fought under Gen. Grant, and with him, fight to salve the welts and scars scored upon the broad back of Mr. Charles Sumner by a dead Congressman from Carolina?
